GOVERNMENT IS LOSING CONTROL

More Than 3000 Put to Death in Madrid by Anti-Capitalists

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)
HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish border. Reliable advices brought here by refugees from Madrid, today stated the Spanish capital's extremist "execution squads" had killed well over 3000 middle and upper class citizens.

The executions even have increased, the advices said, since Francisco Largo Caballero became premier little more than a month ago.

Bloodthirsty Bands Bands of "bloodthirsty young murderers," the refugees said, are responsible for the executions. The travelers described the death squads as the Spanish counterpart of the French "sans-culottes" of 1789, who, with bloodsoaked tunbrils, daily fed "Madame Guillotine" with aristocrats.

While the municipal morgue squad's figure for corpses collected on the outskirts of Madrid reached one-day low of 15 early in September, it soared to 82 one day a fortnight later.

Caballero became premier on Sept. 4.

Party Friction
One explanation of the increase, the advices said, might be found in new friction over political concessions between the revolutionary socialist government and the Syndicalist National Confederation of Labor with its satellite, the Federation of Iberian Anarchists.

The role of free-lance executioners, the refugees added, is second nature to the avowed gunmen in these two organizations, but the members of the popular front parties and unions regard it with loathing.

LANDON HITS CENSORSHIP

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Gov. Alf
M. Landon said today the New Deal was employing a "censorship of the source of news" which he said was "just as bad as the censorship of news itself."

"Harry L. Hopkins has shut off the source of news," the presidential nominee added to a press conference in reply to questions concerning the WPA administrator's statement that relief records were open "to anybody who has a legitimate reason to see them."

Landon said he thought WPA cost records and payrolls "is a public business and the information should be made available to any newspaper."

PITTSBURGH'S MAYOR QUILTS

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—Mayor William N. McNair submitted his resignation today to the city clerk's office.

City officials disagreed as to whether the resignation could be made effective at once or await action on it by city council.

The mayor offered to resign yesterday after city councilmen indicated they would not accept his new appointee for the city treasurer's position, succeeding James P. Kirk, dismissed by the mayor.

The resignation came unexpectedly and left city hall in confusion.

Lepers Parade About Manila as Protest
MANILA, P. I. (AP)—Hundreds of lepers paraded the streets of Manila early today after escaping from San Lazaro hospital.

They climaxed their demonstration with a march on Malacan-nan presidential palace and permitted police to herd them back to the hospital only after a presidential secretary had received their protest against being imprisoned while sufferers from tuberculosis were not quarantined.

Builder Dies

Harry H. Ball, prominent subdivider and developer of residence tracts in Santa Ana for the past 16 years, who died at his home, 111 West Seventeenth street, early today. Mr. Ball was a member of the firms of Ball and Honer, and Ball, Means and Honer, which have built many homes, civic and business structures here.

CITRUS FRUIT MOVES FAST

Local Exchange Reports
Shipments 300 Cars
Ahead of 1935

Valencia orange shipments by the Orange County Fruit exchange today were approximately 300 cars ahead of shipments at the same time last year, with less than 1311 cars of tree crop remaining to be shipped.

Shipments during September from the nine houses affiliated with the exchange amounted to 1280 carloads, making a total of 5486 carloads for the season to
Oct. 1. Last year at this time 2191 carloads were left to go after Oct. 1.

September lemon shipments amounted to 30 cars, bringing total shipments to date to 77. The market of California lemons is satisfactory on large sizes, the exchange reported.

The revised tree crop estimate by the California-Arizona orange and grapefruit agency compared with 10,719 cars last year. The September valencia market was satisfactory, the exchange reported, with a slight downward trend evident now.

Florida orange shipments are expected to be heavier this month than for any such period in the last seven years, the exchange said.

Citrus growers of the county stand to lose about $6000 for the rest of the season if the threatening Pacific coast shipping dispute continues, it was reported from Los Angeles. Shipment by water from New York has been completely abandoned, and growers are paying the difference between water and rail freight rates.

Bushard Fined on Reckless Driving

With a drunken driving complaint dismissed and a new charge of reckless driving filed, W. W.
Bushard, prominent Costa Mesa rancher, today pleaded guilty to the new complaint and paid a $150 fine in city court here.

Arrested and booked on drunk driving charges Aug. 23, Bushard pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial. He appeared and paid the fine this morning, however, after City Attorney Lew Blodgett moved to dismiss the original complaint and file the new one.

The lepers were granted a permit to parade yesterday but at the last minute it was rescinded.
They responded by overpowering hospital guards at 5 a. m. and escaped over a wall.

Several hundred lepers joined the demonstration. Police attempted to break up the march, but captured only 11. As the others marched to the palace

DEATH TAKES HARRY BALL TODAY

Real Estate Developer Played Big Part in Home Building

With the death of Harry H. Ball today, Santa Ana lost a citizen who ranked among its most outstanding developers. He died at his home, 111 West Seventeenth street, early this morning.

A principal in the firms of Ball and Honer, and Ball, Honer and Means, he has figured in many important real estate transactions since his arrival in Santa Ana from Michigan in 1920. He devoted most of his interests to subdivision developments, one of the first being a 20-acre tract known as Suburban Acres on West Seventeenth street, which included the main western approach to the city.

It was at this time that he began the association with Allison Honer, which was to lead to the ultimate partnership in which Ball handled the real estate end, and Honer the construction.

Construction Projects
Subsequent developments of residential districts include the Floral Park tract in which Greenleaf, Heliotrope and Flower streets have developed into one of Santa Ana's most attractive sections, with later the addition of six more acres between King and English streets.

The most recent achievements in which Ball and his associates figured were the completion of the auditorium and other units of the new Santa Ana High school, and the construction of the Santa Ana city hall.

Other constructive projects of the firm were the Chevrolet garage, the drive-in market building at Bristol and Washington streets, the Yale apartments on North Broadway, the Remsburg market at Seventeenth and Main streets, the Bel-Air apartments on Spurgeon street and more than 500 private homes in Santa Ana.

Lodge Affiliations Ball would have celebrated his 59th birthday anniversary day today. He was a Shriner, a Rotarian, a member of the local Elks lodge and of the Presbyterian church.

He was a native of Petersburg,
Mich., and is survived by his wife,
Bessie A. Ball, and three daughters: Josephine, Mrs. Albert Paine Levy; Maybelle, Mrs. William Hewitt; and Miss Winnifred Ball.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Smith and Tuthill.

SCRIPPS BUYS COMPETITOR

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The Commercial Appeal, one of the oldest and largest newspapers in the South, today became a part of the Scripps-Howard newspaper organization.

Col. James Hammond, retiring publisher and president, announced the change in owners in this morning's issue.

The deal gave Scripps-Howard control of the morning and afternoon field in Memphis. The afternoon paper is the Press-Scimitar.

grounds, officials summoned extra guards.

Jose Vargas, presidential secretary, met the lepers in front of the palace. They presented him with a memorial, protesting their treatment. They argued tuberculosis is more dangerous than leprosy. After Vargas promised to present their views to President Manuel Quezon, police marched the demonstrators back to San Lazaro hospital.

Island Hot Over Sea Wall Bid

Property owners on Balboa island today were looking askance at federal relief agencies as a result of action by the WPA which provides for accepting a bid for constructing a sea wall there, which is about $13,000 higher than another bid. The property owners are considerably upset over federal action regarding their proposed new sea wall, which they hope eventually will surround their island.

I Cover the Courthouse

(Editor's Note: This being Newspaper week, The Journal is publishing a series of brief sketches telling how its various news men work. Today's article takes the reader on a trip with a reporter through the courthouse and county offices.)

I cover the courthouse.
And other things, too. Monday, for instance, I covered a circus parade. Except for one thing (they wouldn't let me play the cal-lopie), that was a better job than covering superior court.

The courthouse run starts in the county clerk's office. First on the day's schedule is a check on lawsuits started, a rapid inspection of filings, which sometimes include appeals, notices of incorporation, probate matters and dozens of legal trivialities, and then a look around the office and a "what's new?" query addressed to the staff at large.

Superior courts come next. This generally consists of a busy five minutes over the court clerk's counter to see what it's all about.
If it's an interesting case, or a pertinent one, sit down and spend the morning. Otherwise, be off, because there are many offices.

This done, the courthouse reporter tries all the other offices.
This is routine—after it's done
he can go to work. The city editor calls about this time with a hot tip from somewhere, and the reporter starts a frantic look for one of the county's five supervisors to get the dope. If it's a Tuesday this is simple, because he's sitting in the board room watching the county's business go by, anyway.

Or he gets sent to the welfare department, where Byron Curry is glad to talk and hard to get news from, or somewhere else in the hinterlands of his beat.

But this, too, is routine. The real part of the courthouse reporter's job comes later.

About 2 o'clock, when the paper is safely on the press, and the courthouse scribbler is relaxing in the press room, feet on the desk, the first edition in his hands—
The phone rings. It's the city editor again.

"Giddy, we gotta have a bellringer for tomorrow! And I want it in this afternoon."

"See Lambert—ask Bill Menton
—try Nick Thompson—see what Joe Backs has to say—follow up that yarn from the appellate court—"

Then the courthouse reporter goes to work.

SWEDS START OCEAN HOP

NEW YORK. (AP)—Facing hazardous weather in a 300-mile stretch of the Newfoundland coast, Kurt Bjorkvall, 31-year-old Swedish flier, pointed the nose of his red and green monoplane, Face-maker, eastward today in a projected non-stop flight to Stockholm.

Bjorkvall, who rejected the proposal that Baroness Eva von Blix-
the ground at 7:35 a. m.

WILL SUPPLY ALL LANDS NEEDED

Supervisors Act Today
At Request of Maj.
Theodore Wyman

Authority was given by Orange county today for United States army engineers to proceed with preliminary work on the $13-000,000 flood control program for this county.

The board of supervisors adopted a resolution pledging the county to furnish necessary rights-of-way and flood easements, and to protect the federal government from damages arising out of the dam project.

The resolution specifically bound the county and the Orange county flood control district to purchase the necessary lands "as needed."

Action was taken at the request of Maj. Theodore H. Wyman, jr., head of the United States army engineers corps in Los Angeles.

Major Wyman intimated a week ago that preliminary work on the Prado and other dam projects would be started as soon as the assurance was given by the county. He told Chairman John Mitchell of the board that funds were on hand to pay for test borings and preliminary examinations.

As matters stand now the appraisers evaluating land to be purchased by the county will finish their work sometime before Nov. 15, and a county bond election for approximately $2,000,000 to purchase the lands will follow, presumably before the first of next year.

Major Wyman told Chairman Mitchell at the same time that the government probably would call for bids on the first of the Prado dam work by Feb. 15, provided the bonds were passed.

PUT S. A. FUNDS IN CITY NAME

City inspectors and other city employees who collect fines, fees or other money for the city must deposit the funds daily in bank accounts in the city's name, the council decreed last night.

Several employees, it was reported, have been keeping collections in bank accounts standing only in the employee's name. City Auditor Lloyd Banks said he did not know how many such accounts there are.

It is the practice of the various city departments to deposit the money in bank accounts, turning over the month's collection to the city auditor and treasurer once a month. Should an employee with city money standing in his own name die, city funds would be tied up pending settlement of the estate, it was pointed out.

Issues Warning On Rabid Dogs

Warnings against the possibility of rabies spreading in the county was issued today by the Orange county health department, which told of the destruction of two rabid dogs in the Costa Mesa district early this week.

One of the dogs was taken from the corner of Hamilton and Anaheim streets, and the other from 236 Avocado street, in Costa Mesa.
Pet owners were warned to keep their dogs at home or on leash for the next two months, and to immediately report any signs of illness to the health department.

NINE MINERS ARE KILLED

Elevator Cable Snaps, Dropping Men 900
Feet to Bottom

MULLAN, Ida. (AP)—Nine miners fell 900 feet to their deaths in an elevator at the Morning mine, a property of the Federal Mining and Smelting company, near here, early today.

The men were going off shift at 1 a. m., and were being loaded into the cage, or mine elevator.
The steel cable snapped as the cage was only partly loaded, survivors said.

Jack Jamison, a miner, said the cage door had been opened, and he had started to step inside when the cable snapped, dropping the elevator from the 3000-foot level.
He said he barely saved himself from plunging after it.

The cage is a three-deck affair.
The bottom deck had just been filled with the nine miners, and the elevator was being moved to load the middle deck when the cable snapped, miners said.

JUDGE UPHOLDS NEW DEAL ACT

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The validity and constitutionality of the 1933 federal securities act was upheld in a ruling on record today
by Federal Judge William P.
James. Judge James said that, so far as he knew, it was the first court test in the nation of the act's criminal section.

Judge James overruled a de-murrer filed by six men indicted on charges of making false representations to sell $1,500,000 worth of trade acceptances.

De La Rocque Losing Power

PARIS. (AP)—Col. Francois de la Rocque, once recognized seriously as a potential dictator of France, was threatened today with loss of his following in the French Social party.

De la Rocque found many rightist elements turning against him as the result of what they called the failure of his demonstration Sunday and subsequent demands the government prosecute its leaders.

The waning fervor of his followers was based on censure of de la Rocque's tactics, particularly his failure to resist more strenuously the government's dissolution of the Croix de Feu, of which he was commander.

clouds to feel the heart beat of the man down in the old fish market? You can not, according to Eddie Dowling, actor, author, producer of Broadway successes, and chairman of the theatrical division of the Democratic party. Mr. Dowling writes for The Journal today in the Merry-Go-Round on the editorial page. He was with Al Smith when the great New York political leader

GIANTS ARE CRUSHED IN 6TH GAME

Fitzsimmons Battered
From Box in Fourth; Crowd Is Small

By EDWARD J. NEIL
POLO GROUNDS, New York.
(AP)—The Yankees won the first all-Manhattan World Series in 13 years by four games to two today, crushing the Giants again in a record-breaking sixth game finale, 13 to 5, before a crowd of 38,427,
the smallest of the series.

The battering American Leaguers, winning the 20th series for their circuit against 13 for the National league, climaxed the day and the series by scoring seven runs in the ninth, breaking their own record for ninth-inning rallies, set at six in the second game.

FIRST INNING

The play-by-play account follows:
Yankees
Crosetti filed out behind the infield to Whitehead. Rolfe bounded out to Terry, unassisted. DiMaggio filed out to Leiber in center.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Giants
Joe Moore dropped a single near the left field foul line. It fell just out of Powell's reach. Bartell, with the count three and two, walked. Terry bunted along the third base line and was out, Rolfe to Gehrig, Moore reaching third and Bartell second on the sacrifice. Leiber walked on four straight balls and the bases were loaded. Ott, with the count three and two, hit, sharply down the right field line for a double, scoring Moore and Bartell. Leiber stopped at third. Mancuso fouled out to Rolfe, who made a running catch a few feet in front of the box seats. Whitehead bounded out, Lazzari to Gehrig. Two runs, two hits, no errors, two left.

SECOND INNING

Yankees
Gehrig filed to Leiber in deep right center. Dickey filed to Moore, who ran into center field for the catch. Selkirk, with the count three and two, smashed a three-bagger into the Giants' bullpen in right center. Powell poled a line drive home run into the upper right field stands, scoring behind Selkirk with the tying run.
Lazzari singled past Jackson.
Gomez bounded out, Fitzsimmons to Terry. Two runs, three hits, no errors, one left.

Giants
Jackson smashed a single through the box into center field.
Fitzsimmons filed to Selkirk, Jackson remaining at first. Moore filed to Powell in left. Bartell walked. Terry filed out to Di-Maggio. No runs, one hit, no er-

THIRD INNING

Yankees
Crosetti, with the count three and two, fanned. Rolfe singled sharply over Bartell's head. Di-Maggio singled to left with the count three and two, sending Rolfe to third. Gehrig lined to Ott and Rolfe scored easily after the catch.
There was no play at the plate as Ott threw to second to hold Di-Maggio. Dickey flew out to Moore in left center. One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Giants
Leiber fouled out to Dickey. Ott was thrown out on a hopper that caromed off Gomez' glove to Crosetti, who retired the runner with a nice throw to Gehrig. Mancuso was safe at first when Rolfe fumbled his high bouncer. It was an error for Rolfe. Whitehead sent a high fly to Selkirk, who made a nice running catch over the right field fence.

BAND TO PLAY IN NOV. 11 PARADE

Orchestra Request Is Refused by Council with 'Regrets'

Of two Santa Ana municipal organizations which long have sought city financial backing, one obtained partial recognition from the city council last night and the other was turned down.

Presented with a petition from 100 business men asking that the Santa Ana city band, directed by Leland Auer, be retained to take part in parades and similar events, the council voted to use the organization on special occasions.

Refuse With Regrets

The motion, proposed by Councilman William Penn, specified that there would be no regular salary for a director.

On Penn's motion the band was retained for the American Legion parade here on Armistice day to represent the city.

A request of the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra, standing before the council for several weeks, was turned down "with regrets" on motion of Councilman Layton, after City Auditor Lloyd Banks reported insufficient funds in the city advertising fund.

Must Charge Admission

Elwood Bear, director, and Dr. M. W. Hollingsworth had asked $150 each for four concerts tentatively scheduled for Oct. 10, Dec. 12, March 6 and May 16.

Bear said last night that without city financial aid, the orchestra would have to charge admission, and that if admission is charged, it must pay $50 for use of the high school auditorium.

Burning Wire Causes Bedlam

A merry chase via telephone among an excited woman, a telephone operator, the fire department, a police desk sergeant, and the telephone and Edison companies this morning was somewhat straightened out.

There was a wire burning somewhere.

At 4:30 a. m. Sergeant J. F. McWilliams was told over the telephone that "a telephone wire's burning." The unidentified caller forgot to give her name or address, so McWilliams got it from the operator.

Then he made a lot of phone calls and sent two officers to investigate. Everyone headed for North Broadway, where the fire was thought to be.

Finally, while people were running in circles and McWilliams was getting musclebound plugging in calls on his switchboard, the Edison company called.

"We found it," they said. It's an electric wire and it's at 211 Buffalo street and we'll take care of it. Thanks."

undoubtedly to be entirely dominated by the Anarchists and Syndicalists at its headquarters on Holy Sunday hill, successfully hoodwinks the police and the government over the treatment of persons known to have fallen into its clutches, today's advisers said.

Violate Pledges

Many persons have been executed, they added, despite official efforts to save their lives after "cheek" assurances to the authorities that no harm would befall them.

Tragic evidence that the "executioners" aim at the extermination of the entire capitalist class is provided, the travelers continued, by the number of persons of liberal convictions found every day at dawn on the capital's sandy outskirts, shot with a "savage cruelty."

Day after day, they said, scenes at the execution areas in the University city, at Cuatro Caminos and on San Isidro hill, with mothers and their children discussing shopping over bullet-riddled corpses, reveal Spain in the raw.

FASCISTS TROOPS READY FOR MARCH

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

BURGOS, Spain.—Insurgent commanders, inspired by reports of fresh victories in the bloody civil war against Socialists, marshaled 150,000 disciplined troops today for a march on Madrid.

The decisive assault on the capital, Fascist headquarters announced, would be led by Gen. Francisco Franco, head of the insurgent provisional government and designed "chief of the Spanish army."

The drive was set to begin as soon as present operations to tighten the insurgent lines and effect junctions of marching columns were completed.

League of Women Voters to Oppose Civil Service Plan at Next State Convention

(Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of articles dealing with the question of civil service for county and municipal officers and employees. Today we tell arguments against the plan.)

By BOB GUILD

Civil service is a fine thing, but the proposition on the November ballot is none too good.

Civil service merely means a job sinecure for 60,000 county and city employees in California.

The proposed civil service amendment sets up a cumbersome bureau, and burdens communities with a complicated procedure which can only result in discredit to the principle of advancement through ability.

Those are at least three of the arguments proposed by the opponents of Proposition 7 on the November ballot. There are others.

The Santa Ana League of Women Voters, when it sends its delegation to the statewide league convention next week, is sending it instructed to vote against the measure.

Amendment Scored

"The local league," its president pro-tem, the Rev. Julia M. Budlong, said today, "is on the side of civil service, but against the present measure. We feel it is badly drawn and not a good amendment."

Most of the argument against Proposition 7 seems to be directed against the amendment itself, rather than the principle it represents.

Ask the Rev. Miss Budlong about it, and she might say:

"This amendment sets up a grotesque and unworkable system designed to benefit the employees without regard for the interests of the community it will come to dominate."

The local league also feels the

FORUM DEBATES LOCAL OPTION

Wet and dry speakers—each a leader in his field, will be opposed tonight on the program for the Forum for Political and Economic Education in a debate on local option.

The meeting will open at 8 p. m. in the junior college hall, Tenth and Main streets.

E. E. Colbert, campaign manager for the United Dry Forces of California, will speak in favor of the proposed local option amendment.

Edward Brown, executive secretary of the Southern California Business Men's association, a group fighting the option amendment, will take the other side.

Questions and rebuttal arguments will be allowed from the floor, it was announced.

Suit Aimed to Force Inflation

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Suing as a taxpayer, John D. Montgomery, of Philadelphia, has asked the federal district court here to forbid the issuance of any more federal reserve notes for money and to command the withdrawal of those now in circulation.

His counsel, H. Eugene Gardner, of Glenside, Pa., said Father Charles E. Coughlin's National Union for Social Justice and the Farmers union might join the suit subsequently. The move is aimed, Gardner explained, to force congress to inflate the currency.

The treasury estimated on Sept. 23 that federal reserve notes in circulation amounted to over $4,033,000,000.

File Suit Over Crash Injuries

For injuries and property damage allegedly incurred in an automobile accident on Olive road July 30, Bert Tackett and Reinold Kraemer today asked a total of $975 from five defendants in a suit filed in Santa Ana justice court.

Named as defendants are Johnnie Mullins, said to be owner of a car which collided with a truck in which the two plaintiffs were riding; E. L. Kelly, alleged driver of the car, and Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Mullins and Maud K. Becker, parents of the defendants.

Tackett asks $850 and Kraemer $125.

Through Routes Are Approved

Nine principal streets in Santa Ana were designated as through routes by the city council in a resolution adopted last night.

Their designation paves the way for re-arrangement of stop signs to eliminate those not needed and at the same time reduce the number of traffic interruptions on principal thoroughfares.

amendment gives too broad powers to the legislature to enact laws regulating local civil service systems. They feel the measure might mean the creation of a political employees' lobby, created to secure the enactment of legislation in which they have a personal interest.

In many cases, opponents of the measure are combating it on the same ground as they combat domination of industrial fields by workers' unions.

Another cogent argument advanced against the measure is that it greatly increases governmental expenses in county and municipal polity.

Predict Expense

It provides for the establishment of 53 new county, and 222 new city civil service commissions, each of which would of necessity be forced to maintain a staff of employees, at a considerable public expense, it is argued.

Proponents of the measure admit this, but argue the ultimate good of the proposition would more than balance its expense.

Opponents feel public sentiment is sufficiently strong against any further taxation, to beat the bill.

So there you have it—

Principle Approved

Those in favor, such as Auditor W. T. Lambert, say it would "remove the political huckster from business, and knock out the spoils system."

Those against it, such as the League of Women Voters, feel the principle is good, but that the amendment is poorly drawn, ambiguous, and obscure in meaning.

As the Rev. Miss Budlong would tell you:

"We want a civil service amendment, but we're going to have to send this one back, and get one on the ballot that will work."

CHAMBERS PLAN MEXICO TOUR

A committee of seven members of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce today was working out plans for another Orange county trip into Mexico, planned for the first part of 1937.

Sponsorship of the trip will be arranged without cost to the chambers, it was explained by George Rayer, who presented the plan at last night's meeting of the group in the Green Cat cafe.

The organization also will investigate farther the proposed skyline drive along the crest of the Santa Ana mountains, being careful to explain it was in no way sponsoring or promoting the project as yet.

Discussion of amendments on propositions on the November ballot will be taken up at the organization's next meeting, scheduled for the Elks Club, Anaheim, Oct. 27.

Board Legislates Oil From Highways

All that trouble over the oil somebody said was spilled on the highway near Huntington Beach was cleared up today by the board of supervisors.

Feeling that authority it had under an existing ordinance was insufficient properly to protect the county's roads from oil seepage, the board passed an ordinance specifically legislating against oil on highways.

It provides a $300 fine, or a three months' jail sentence for violations. The existing ordinance is against overflow of water on the highways.

Forum Speaker Talks on Monopoly

Monopolies, while sometimes dangerous, may do good by furnishing equal service to large numbers and by making extensive research.

This was pointed out by Dr. Graham A. Leung of the California Institute of Technology last night to a large forum audience in the high school auditorium.

MIKADO TO BE GIVEN HERE

A capacity audience witnessed the performance of The Mikado, Gilbert and Sullivan opera, at Laguna Beach Saturday night. The same cast presented the opera at Fullerton last Wednesday night.

Charles Cannon, playing the role of Ko-Ko, the lord high executioner, received seven encores after his comedy song in the second act.

William G. Stewart, producer, and authority on Gilbert and Sullivan's works, said this is one of the best companies he has handled. The company is from the San Diego federal music project.

The opera will be presented with the same cast in the Santa Ana High school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday. Julius Leib is conductor.

To Name Group For Water Study

Possibility that a county-wide committee of 50 to investigate importation of Metropolitan water district water into Orange county will be appointed within the next two days was indicated today when Mayor Willis Warner, Huntington Beach, called a meeting of the committee of five to discuss the matter. Warner also is chairman of the board of Orange county water district.

Mayor Warner also said that a smaller committee, composed of representatives of various organizations interested in water may be appointed instead of the larger group. The committee of five, appointed following a joint meeting of the Associated chambers of commerce and Orange County Coast association last month, will meet tomorrow or Friday, Warner said.

Coordinator to Aid Collins Drive

A coordinator for Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties is handling the campaign of Congressman Sam L. Collins was decided upon last night at a meeting of Republicans of the three counties in the Mission inn at Riverside.

Leslie Kimmel, Laguna Beach, will be Orange county coordinator for Collins, who, if re-elected, will be the senior California congressman south of San Francisco.

A group of 11 Orange county Republicans attended the meeting.

ARTIST TO AID CANTANDO

Duci de Kerekjarto, famous Hungarian violinist, will be guest artist on the first Cantando club program here Nov. 17, it was announced today.

The artist has been studying music since he was 3 years old, when he began studying the piano. When he was 7, he played before the queen of Rumania and later played a command performance at her birthday celebration.

Last June he appeared before the Philharmonic audience in Los Angeles, playing four concertos for an enthusiastic audience. Early next year he will be soloist with a great symphony orchestra in New York.

The Nov. 17 concert will be open to regular and associate members of the Cantando club. Associate memberships may be obtained from active members, from Dwight Tock, secretary, 632 North Broadway, or by signing the application appearing in today's Journal.

CRAEMER TAKES ON NEW JOB

Chairman Justus Craemer of the California Republican central committee has his decks cleared today for action.

The Orange publisher yesterday resigned his post as assistant state director of public works to devote his entire time to the Republican campaign.

The resignation was announced by Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly, who said Harold P. Norton, as assistant, would take over Craemer's work in the Los Angeles office.

Four Persons Hurt In Auto Crashes

Leonard Tunstall, 24, Huntington Beach, was cut and bruised last night when his car was involved in a collision with an auto driven by Mrs. J. E. Booth, 35, Huntington Beach, south of Oceanview.

After falling from a truck near Brea last night, Benito Ramirez, 16, Alta Vista, was taken to the county hospital for treatment of a fractured wrist.

John Evans and Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, 76, Placentia, were slightly injured last night in an unreported collision on South Main street. Evans incurred lacerations on the wrist and hand, and Mrs. Evans was badly bruised. Both were treated at the county hospital.

WANTS TAGS PUT ON BEES

Lee Chamness, Huntington Beach city councilman, has been getting stung regularly in the past few weeks, and he wants the council to do something about it.

He told fellow councilmen last night that bees are so plentiful in his grocery store and vegetable stand that he has to run a barrage of bees each time he enters his store.

PARISH PLANS BARBECUE

An all-day carnival and noon barbecue will be held Sunday, Oct. 11, sponsored by St. Anne's parish. The public is invited.

The Rev. Thomas Butler, in general charge of the affair, today announced his various committees, which will superintend the planning of games and contests of all kinds, a fish-pond for the kiddies, entertainment and music and the awarding of many valuable prizes.

The barbecue will be held on Fairview road near the corner of Harbor boulevard, and signs will be posted along the road leading to the grounds.

Committees include Antoine Borchart, chairman of the executive committee, assisted by Mrs. Tony Osterkamp and Herbert Huleskamp; Joe Bettencourt, Tony Barrios, J. Ogden Mackel, Charles Webb, Leslie Harrison, Erhard Hagerman, Joe DeSutta, John Maring, Pete Texira, Pete Halman, Ray Whitten, Charles Rockwell, Roy Flanagan, Riley Huber, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Carnes, Mr. and Mrs. R. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilkins, Mrs. Harry Edwards, Mrs. T. Colombini, Mrs. Della Treve, Mrs. F. Sheelar, Mrs. Margaret Schuster, Mrs. E. Langenbeck, Mrs. F. Jordan, Mrs. Gus Callens, Miss Nellie Colombini, Miss Rose Colombini and Miss Helen Osterkamp.

Tony Barrios and Ray Whitten will superintend the barbecuing.

CRASH CREATES HONOR ROLL

With 20 per cent of the goal reported at the first meeting yesterday, volunteer workers in the Community Chest campaign met again at noon today at the Elks club for the second report luncheon.

Today's report showed $5792 collected since yesterday, in 567 subscriptions, making the total to date $12,873.45, from 771 donors. This is 36 per cent of the $35,656.70 goal.

The leading women's division today was No. 4, headed by Mrs. D. G. Tidball. The federal division headed by Frank Harwood, and the schools division headed by Frank Henderson also were high.

Honors for the best individual work reported Monday noon went to Geo. C. Perkins, captain of team 5A4 of the business division, who reported 167 per cent of the quota at the first meeting with more expected from the same territory.

Establishment of a roll of honor, listing employe groups and company chairmen where 100 per cent of quota is subscribed, was announced by Campaign Chairman D. G. Tidball yesterday. The following groups and company chairmen have qualified for this honor roll: J. C. Penney company, M. O. Johnson; Excelsior creamery, A. C. Ketchum; Security Title and Guaranty, Florence D. Fessman; Home cafe, B. J. Chambers; Alliance Mutual Life Insurance company, J. Wayne Harrison; postoffice clerks, E. C. Palm and Elwin Gammell; postoffice carriers, Maril W. Gwynn and Fred Kirchofer; Gilbert P. Campbell company, Gilbert P. Campbell.

CAUSE OF FATAL CRASH UNKNOWN

Why an automobile driven by Tom Nuttall of Buena Park swung from the Santa Ana canyon road early Sunday, throwing the driver 80 feet and killing him instantly, remained a mystery today.

A coroner's jury in Fullerton today found itself unable to fix the cause of the accident, which resulted in Orange county's sixtieth traffic fatality for 1936.

Meanwhile an inquest was to be held this afternoon into the death of Ben Helmsing, 65, Costa Mesa, fatally injured last Thursday when he fell beneath a bean truck on a ranch near there.

REPUBLICANS LEAD IN CITIES

Republicans will go to the polls in November handicapped in registration figures in every Orange county city but five. Four of those five communities are very small.

In the city of Orange, the G. O. P. enjoys a registration advantage of 391 votes. The Republican party also leads in registration in East Anaheim, Yorba Linda, West Anaheim and Placentia.

The greatest Democratic majority, numerically, is evidenced in Santa Ana, where the Bourbons lead, 10,016 to 8008.

In Anaheim the Democrats lead by 3145 to 2573; in Fullerton by 2964 to 2610, and in Huntington Beach by 1504 to 676. Virtually the same percentage obtains throughout the county.

CITY KEEPING WITHIN ITS BUDGET

Quarterly Report Given Council by Auditor Lloyd Banks

All city departments are operating within their budgets, and revenues for the first quarter of the fiscal year are greater than anticipated, City Auditor Lloyd Banks reported to the city council last night.

His quarterly report showed expenditures of $2437.10 under the budget, and revenues of $7383.90 over those anticipated in the budget, leaving a surplus for the first quarter, of $9821.

No Advance Needed
Balance in the treasury on Oct. 1 was $109,330.06. This, plus income outside the budget, will carry on ordinary operating expenses without asking for any advance from the county on taxes, Banks reported.

Expenditures greater than anticipated were for repair of the joint outfall sewer, which was broken last April in a storm.

Water sales for the first quarter were $45,265.72. There was a $1508.39 in other revenue. Total expenditures were $25,917.38.

Outlays Itemized
General fund disbursements were as follows: City hall expense, $2407.67; general government, $21,303.76; council, $581.73; city clerk, $2314.36; treasurer, $441.98; attorney, $99.65.

Judge, $900.48; police, $16,513.74; inspectors, $1762.06; street lighting, $7835.19; museum, $948.45; utility department, $680.25; engineering, $1951.50; sanitary department, $7148.51; auditor and purchasing agent, $1836.49.

POLICE REPORTS

W. W. Woods, 2208 Greenleaf street, called police to report a prowler at 11:33 p. m. yesterday, but evidently frightened the stranger away, officers reported.

Neil Miles, route 1, Santa Ana, thought he had his pocket picked while watching yesterday's circus parade. His wallet, containing $25, had been lost and picked up by a bystander, who returned it to Miles.

Loss of a blouse bow holding an Eastern Star pin, at Birch park yesterday, was reported by Mrs. C. A. Knowlton, 701 East Chestnut street.

An abandoned car reported by E. B. Harper, 325 East Pomona street, was found to be an auto reported stolen from Oliver Harnois, 333 Harwood place, and was returned to the owner by police.

A 1926 automobile, bearing license plates 1 X 8216 and valued at $70, was reported stolen from East Fourth street. The owner is Rafael Jordan, 2309 South Main street.

Thieves ransacked his home Sunday night and escaped with $4 worth of jewelry and a $1 bill, it was reported by Ralph W. Cole, 317 South Sycamore street.

Yesterday's city court traffic fines: Speeding—Lee D. Holliday, $10; Alice M. Hocker, $6; Oliver P. Ogden, $6; Virgil W. Wagner, $8; Homer Pennington, $5; R. J. Dunheim, $8; Charles W. Dudrow, $8. Parking—W. B. Jennings, $1; failing to make boulevard stop—Joe Hughes, $2.

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This is a non-political, non-partisan column dealing in Townsend news and views, and written by a prominent Townsend leader. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

From up and down, and all around, the people will go to the Townsend hall tomorrow night.

The young and old will be there for "there's going to be a hot time in the old town" at 5:09 West Fourth street tomorrow night. Everybody has heard of the quintet up in Canada, but not everybody has heard the saxophone quintet which will entertain at the Youth Townsend club tomorrow night.

Walter R. Robb at 8 o'clock. But that isn't the whole story. The Andra and Smith Hollywood dance and song team will also be on hand to entertain. But everything isn't going to be smooth sailing and an easy lean-back kind of enjoyment. Folks will have to wrinkle up their brows and start to maneuvering the convolutions of their brains studying out the mystifications of the magician act to be staged during the evening. And then for the folks who are real serious, and just can't get along without a diet of Townsend talk mixed up in a program, there's going to be some such talking done. L. C. Carlisle, Townsend speaker, and president of club No. 7, will dish out the Townsend talk. If the Townsendites know their stuff, they will come from far and near, to help cheer this first Townsend Youth club of Orange county with their program which they have prepared. Let's give them a real crowd to play to.

The writer is now going to let the Townsendites of Orange county in on a secret. Out in Costa Mesa tonight when the dusk begins to lower, the Townsendites of club No. 2 will begin assembling together some of the best looking and best smelling cuts in Orange county. Those Costa Mesa Townsendites of club No. 2 just dote on eating. On the first Tuesday night of every month at 6:30 in the Lindbergh school building at the corner of Twenty-third and Orange streets, they have what they call a pot-luck dinner. And let me tell you, everybody's lucky who goes to those dinners. There isn't any better eating in the world than those Costa Mesa cooks can dish out. Twice the writer has been there to sample those dinners and he knows what he's talking about from experience. And those folks are just as sociable as can be. The smiles just spread all over their faces when folks from other Townsend clubs and folks what ain't Townsendites at all, come to their dinners. All they ask is that folks bring their own eating tools, and some of mother's cooking to put on the table. And so you Townsendites in getting distance of Costa Mesa now know what to do.

Some of these days this column will include a lot of interesting information concerning this Costa Mesa club No. 2. All that's getting into this column tonight is this: The president of this club is Mrs. Margaret Robertson, 131 Albert place. Carl Swain, Twenty-third and Newport boulevard, is vice president; Mrs. M. H. Tower, 2547 Orange avenue, secretary, and Mrs. H. S. Drake, on Acacia street in the Bay View district, is treasurer. That will introduce you readers to who's who in the direction of this club's activities. It functions with splendid influence for the Townsend cause in the Costa Mesa section of Orange county.

Clyde A. Watson, Democratic nominee for the assembly, and L. C. Carlisle, Townsend speaker from Santa Ana, were both speakers before the Tustin club Monday evening. Some more good eats were enjoyed at this meeting. Another pot-luck dinner was indulged in by those present. Judging from the complacent attitude of Democratic nominee Watson, whom the writer saw later in the evening, it must have been a mighty satisfying affair. There's some mighty fine folk out in the Tustin club and they are always on hand with their share of accomplishments for the Townsend cause.

He will arrive here Thursday morning with Warren Marr, wanted in Santa Ana for several months on bunco charges.

sell street, was another pot-luck affair put on by Townsend club No. 1. Some 90 or more Townsendites sat down to well laden tables and enjoyed a splendid time. The affable and enthusiastic J. A. Green of 218 South Center street, is president of this club. The writer spoke briefly before this club at this gathering. The membership roll of this club reveals a total of 679 Townsendites as members. Last night's gathering was entertained with a splendid musical program consisting of violin, guitar, piano and vocal music. Will Henry contributed violin solos, accompanied by Bill Duke on the guitar and Charles Fenton on the piano. A piano number was rendered by W. J. Kneebone and a reading was given by Mrs. N. L. Raymond. All the contributions were encored heartily by the large audience and each responded to the demands of the audience. J. C. Hogue, Santa Ana real estate man and member of Townsend club No. 6, was a visitor at the meeting.

THORN in the FLESH

By GLENN L. THORNE

We all have lots to say in razzing the WPA, and often with good reason.

But, while it is true there are many chislers, there are also many other deserving, good American citizens on the WPA rolls. Why should these be subjected to unnecessary embarrassment "just because?"

W. P. A. Anybody tells me it is almost impossible to rent a house "if"—just because! And recently, though he had bought considerable merchandise on the excitement plan and had paid it off promptly, he was again in the market. But, though armed with a "your credit is good, come buy more" letter, when it was learned his initials were W. P. A., that changed the water on the goldfish, and it took a great deal of telephoning before the contract could be OKed—just because!

Why? Is it true that there are "over" to go easy on WPA creditors? If so, why? Does the WPA road end just around the corner?

If it is not true, and such is not the case, why the unnecessary embarrassment, just because?

In 1930 the people of Iceland celebrated the 1000th anniversary of Althing, said to be the oldest parliamentary assembly in the world.

PLAYERS USING NEW SCENERY
A startling experiment in the annals of the Santa Ana Community Players in the ultra-modernistic scenery now under construction for the Players' presentation of "Hay Fever," next Friday and Saturday nights.

The sets are being done in apricot and silver, painted in horizontal stripes. They are the design and work of Burr Shafer, Max Holmes and Northrup Ellis.

Nightly rehearsals for "Hay Fever," one of Noel Coward's most brilliant comedies, are being held at the home of Mrs. Charles Riggs. Gladys Shafer is directing the production.

The cast includes Mona Summers Smith, John Swarthout, Mary Swarthout, Leslie Steffensen, Florence Nalle, Harold Fish, Lawrence Nowland, Jeanne Kay, and Agnes Brady.

DONS AVOID CONFLICT FIVE TROJANS MARRY PREPS' 14TH SEASON

Bucking the U. S. C. U. C. L. A. natural in Coliseum Thanksgiving day is utter foolishness, so Coach Bill Cook of Santa Ana and Roy Priebe of Fullerton have come out of a tete-a-tete with plans to shift their annual jaysee classic to Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 25.

The night game should draw as well as—if not better than—the afternoon affair, anyway.

Many fans are eating their turkey around 2 p. m., and annually refuse to rush through their dinner just to see another football game.

Held under the arcs either Wednesday or Friday, the game should pack 'em in, particularly if the Dons and Yellowjackets are in the running for the Eastern conference title. . . . Eleven night tilts are in prospect for the junior collegians. Three have become history. A fourth will be played with Citrus at Azusa Friday. Chaffey's Panthers have agreed to appear here a week from Friday night instead of the following Saturday afternoon. . . . Other nocturnal engagements are carded with San Bernardino J. C. here Oct. 23, U. C. L. A. J. C. here Oct. 30, Pomona J. C. here Nov. 6, Riverside J. C. here Nov. 13 and the Whittier Frosh here Nov. 20.

Five of Southern California's present Trojans have walked up the middle aisle.

Married are Max Belko of Indiana, tackle; Charley Williams of Compton, end; Coye Dunn of San Diego, halfback; Raphael Brossau of Los Angeles, guard; and George McNeish of Pasadena, center.

Ernest M. Brown and E. H. Fuller, leaders in The Journal's world series guessing contest, were to lay their cards on the table in today's game between the Yankees and Giants.

Neither has missed picking the winners in the first five chapters of the big show. Fuller called on the Yanks to wind up the series, 9-5, in today's brawl, and Brown staked his chances with the Giants, 3-2. They both can't win.

The Coast league, most potent of Southland prep alliances, inaugurates its fourteenth year of athletic rivalry Saturday with two new playmates—Woodrow Wilson of Long Beach and Herbert Hoover of San Diego.

Both are destined to finish in the cellar their first season. The season ratings find Long Beach Foy, the defending champ, and San Diego's Hillers in the favored spot ahead of Alhambra's Moors, with a veteran team, and Santa Ana's Saints. The local preps, with a fine-blocking backfield and a green but potentially powerful line, may replace Alhambra in the "g. Three."

OILERS GUN FOR TITLE TONIGHT

Huntington Beach's Oilers hope to clinch the Southern California nightball crown from San Bernardino at Parris Hill park in San Bernardino at 8 o'clock tonight. They are leading, three games to one.

Joe Rodgers' Oilers boast a team average of .241 for the series, 10 points superior to the Stubbies. Catcher John Norton of San Bernardino is heading the hitting parade with a .409. Teammate Sam Strano has a .385, and Louie Neva and Henry Thier of the Oilers are tied for third at .375.

NORTON AND PREININGER MAKE TRIP

Santa Anans Will Play Against Illini; Draper Impersonates Grieve

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Southern California loads its 1936 gridiron hopes into a train tonight and sends them off to Champaign for a crucial test by Bob Zuppke's Illinois eleven.

For the intersectional game Saturday that may make or break Troy's "Thundering Herd," Coach Howard Jones is taking along 38 players, 18 of them unbeaten sophomores.

Thumping victories over Oregon in Pacific Coast conference competition gave Southern California fans a basis for rating the Trojans at least on a par with the Illini, who conquered them 19 to 0 in the first meeting here a year ago.

Only one man was not in good shape as train time neared. Ambrose Schinder, sparkplug quarterback of the sophomore string, incurred a charley horse against Oregon. Bill Radovich, guard, had a slight cold.

In Troy's last workout here, Foy Draper, Southern California sprint ace, donned a suit and impersonated Bobby Grieve, Illinois speedster, against the sophomore and veteran lineups.

Ends—Hibbs, Williams, Stanley, Wehba, Gaisford, Henderson and Noor.

Tackles—Belko, Norton, McNell, George, Thurlow and Fisher.

Guards—Brossau, Haas, Halvorsen, Radovich, Hansen, Wilensky and Preininger.

Centers—Capt. Kuhn, Tonelli and Reed.

Quarterbacks—Davis, Schindler, Keller and Pappas.

Halfbacks—Dunn, Duboski, Sutherland, Jesse, Beatty, Russell and Morgan.

Fullbacks—Peccianti, Berryman, Jones and Galvin.

Miles Norton, tackle, and Joe Preininger, guard, are Santa Ana athletes.

FOOTBALL BRIEFS

SAINTS DRILL WITH TUSTIN TOMORROW
Putting on the finishing touches for their Coast Prep league inaugural with the Hillers at San Diego Saturday afternoon, Santa Ana High school gridders will scrimmage Bill Cole's Tustin Tilters at Poly field tomorrow. Tustin is preparing for a night game with Orange's Panthers in the Municipal bowl Friday.

By the Associated Press
SEA TLE.—After a snappy workout this afternoon, the Washington football team was scheduled to leave for Los Angeles to play its Pacific Coast Conference championship hopes on the line against the U. C. L. A. Bruins Saturday.

It will be the first road trip for the Huskies. They arrive Thursday morning in time for workouts Thursday afternoon and Friday.

BATON ROUGE.—Three shot putters, all of whom placed in the 1936 Southeastern Conference track and field meet, are on the Louisiana State football team. They are Bill Cross, 200-pound halfback; "Big Ben" Friend, 245-pound tackle, and Gordon (Lefty) Lester, 195-pound tackle.

PALO ALTO.—With three players in the hospital with injuries received in the Washington State game, Coach Claude E. (Tiny) Thornhill planned considerably juggling of his Stanford football team.

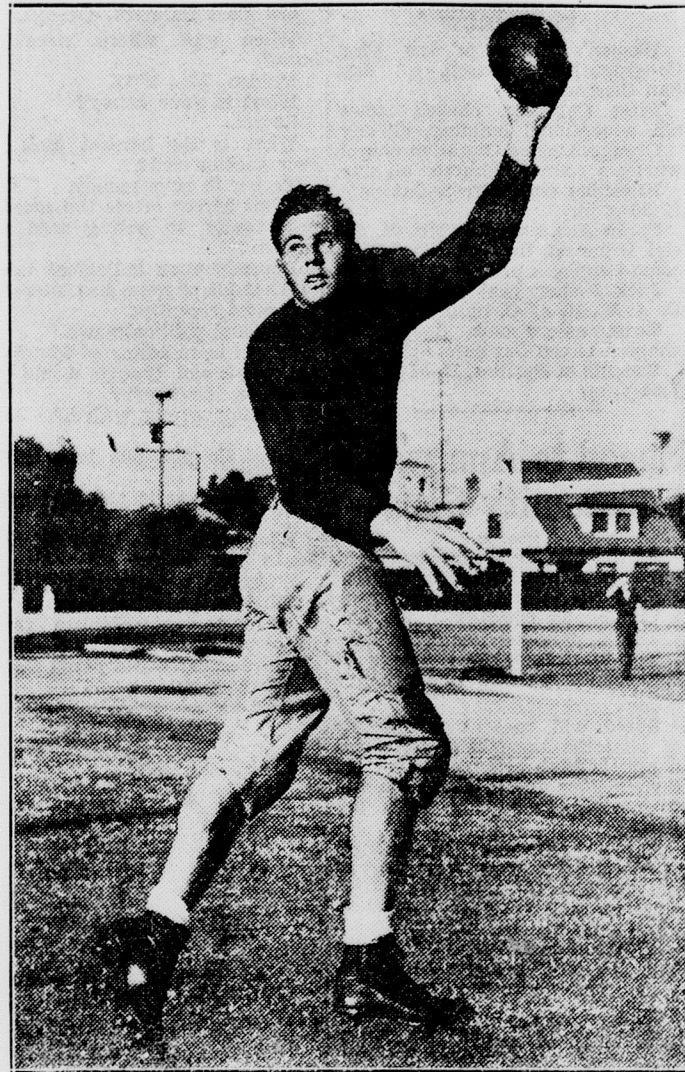

BERKELEY.—Three days' intensive drill on fundamentals and scrimmage faced University of California's football warriors today as work began in earnest for the Bears' conference opener at Corvallis Saturday with Oregon State college.

Pacific Coast Net Play Continues; Hippinstiel Loses

BERKELEY. (AP)—The 47th Pacific Coast tennis championships continued today with all pre-tournament favorites except Henry Culley of Santa Barbara. Culley was defeated yesterday by youthful Harper Massie of Berkeley in the only upset.

Culley, ranked No. 14 in the United States, lost, 3-6, 8-6, 6-1, to the Berkeley Tennis club boy. Walter Senior of San Francisco, state singles champion, scored a 6-2, 6-2 win over Walter Honsberger, Berkeley, while red-haired Don Budge won his second round match from Robin Hippinstiel, San Bernardino, 6-4, 6-4.

Strangely quiet out at the O. C. a badly swollen left knee, and was limping noticeably after the first few moments. Coleman came up with the fall at 10:09, when he boomed the Japanese over with a flying tackle as Kudo bent over to adjust the bandage on his leg.

The payoff came after 10:27 minutes of the second fall, as aforesaid. They carried Coleman out.

Four fair-to-middlin' preliminaries filled out the card. George (General) Kondelis explained the Greek word for it to Steve Strehlich in 10 minutes, when Strehlich missed a dropkick, landing on his rumble seat, with Kondelis in the driver's seat.

Hansen Whips Ginsberg
Bill Hansen managed to eke out a fall over the terrible Baron Ginsberg, in 17:05, when Ginsberg was disqualified by Referee Dick Rutherford for a concerted attack on Hansen's eyes.

Pat O'Shocker and "Doc" Meyer wrestled to a dull 20-minute draw. Bill Hansen's young brother, Floyd, made his debut in the Orange county ring by pinning Wild Bill Grubbs in 16:04, with an airplane spin, after a rough brawl. Kiman came into the ring with

STANFORD NOT TO 'STRIKE' Game With Cougars Studied

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Stanford university's football team will play its schedule, Graduate Manager Al Masters declared today, despite resentment of players against Bobby Morris.

Masters termed as "ridiculous" a reported threat by the team to "strike" as a protest against Morris' officiating in Washington State's 14-10 victory over Stanford Saturday.

Morris, who is scheduled to officiate in the University of Southern California-Stanford game at Palo Alto Oct. 24, was charged by the Cardinal players with irregularities in the game at Pullman, Wash.

"The players may feel strongly against Morris," Masters said, "but the motion of a 'strike' is ridiculous." He referred to the reports the players had notified Coach Claude E. Thornhill they would not again accept Morris as an official unless ordered by him to do so.

Masters announced he was communicating on the matter

Leiber, with the count three and two, fanned, swinging. Ott hit the first pitch for a homer into the upper tier of the left field stands. It was his first circuit-clout of the series. Mancuso flied to DiMaggio in deep center. Whitehead rolled out, Gomez to Gehrig. One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING

Yankees
Powell fanned, swinging. Lazzeri also went down swinging. Castleman had a sharp-breaking curve and a world of speed. Gomez also whiffed for the third straight strikeout of the inning and the crowd roared its approval. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Giants
Jackson hoisted to Lazzeri. Castleman got a big hand as he stepped into the batter's box. Castleman rolled out, Gomez to Gehrig. Moore bounded out, Lazzeri to Gehrig. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SEVENTH INNING

Yankees
Crossett was thrown out on a sensational play by Bartlett to Terry. The Giants' shortstop took the ball on the run with his bare hand and threw to Terry just in time to nip the runner. Crossett squawked vigorously. Rolfe got his third straight hit, a sharp grounder past Whitehead. DiMaggio hoisted a high fly to Leiber in short center. Gehrig was thrown out. Whitehead to Terry, on another brilliant fielding play. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Giants
Bartlett drove a two-bagger down the left field line. Terry hit the first pitch to center for a single. Bartlett scored and Terry ran to second when the ball squirted through DiMaggio's legs. It was a single for Terry and an error for DiMaggio. Leiber bunted along the first base line and was thrown out, Rolfe to Gehrig. Terry hobbling to third on the sacrifice. Ott walked on four straight balls. Gomez was taken from the box and Johnny Murphy, a right-hander, succeeded him. Sam Leslie, reserve first baseman, batted for catcher Gus Mancuso. Leslie fouled out to Rolfe back of third, on the first pitch. Jimmy Ripple batted for Whitehead. Ripple smashed a long drive into the right field stands, but it was foul. Ripple walked with the count three and two. Mark Koenig batted for Jackson, with the bases loaded. Koenig was called out on strikes. One run, two hits, one error, three left.

Giants
Koenig went to second for the Giants, Eddie Mayo to third, and Harry Danning went behind the bat. Ripple went to center in place of Leiber. Dickey, with the count three and two, walked. Ripple Gains Spotlight

Giant Rookie Outshining Joe DiMaggio

By PAUL MICKELSON

NEW YORK. (AP)—Joe DiMaggio won acclaim as the greatest major league rookie of 1936 but the thousands who have watched the melodramatic World Series battles aren't so sure he has anything over Jim Ripple, star Giant freshman, at least for the time being.

With a team that has been stumbling along, Ripple actually has surpassed the World Series exploits of the young Italian from the Golden Gate, today's figures reveal. At bat, he has smashed out four hits in 12 chances and driven in three runs. DiMaggio has hit safely six times out of 20 and batted in two runs.

More than that, Ripple has come through almost every time in a pinch, whereas DiMaggio has failed, twice hitting into double plays when one run meant a ball game.

Both have turned in some fielding masterpieces, but the general opinion is that Ripple with two hits. His leaping, rolling catch yesterday of Red Rolfe's low line drive was one of the most spectacular in World Series history.

The Giant import from Export, Pa., meant as much to the Giants in their great pennant drive as DiMaggio did to the Yankees. The Giants needed another Blondy Ryan, as in 1933. Ripple was just the man.

Hard work made a strong boy, a hard hitter, out of Ripple. At 13, he was forced to work for a living. He got a job in a lumber camp.

"That work developed my wrists," he explained.

At Montreal, he went great guns and four big league scouts rushed up there to look him over. But on two occasions, with the big league ivory spies sitting in the stands, he hurt himself. In 1935, his luck changed. Terry scouted him personally and bought him.

Ripple no longer is a major league Ripple. He's a Tidal Wave.

DONS EMPLOY NEW BACKS AT AZUSA

Quarterback Joe Herbert will be shifted to fullback and Fullback Alvin Lamb to inside halfback in changes resulting from the effectiveness of Bill Greshner and John Lehnardt in the two back positions at Santa Ana Junior college.

Against Long Beach's Vikings, who fell 19-0 here last week, Herbert looked better at full than he did at quarter, and will be used in the former capacity against Al "Clayey" pesky Citrus Owls at Azusa Friday night. Lamb will be moved to left half to aid Mac Beall. Ed Stanley is responding to treatment rapidly for a severe charley horse, and may be able to alternate with Fred Lentz at right half in the Eastern conference opener.

The great headway of Fred Erdhaus at left end will permit Greshner to remain permanently at quarterback with Lehnardt. Vernon Koepsel and Ray Sides, two little speed-burners, will be inserted late in the game after the opposition is tiring. The condition of Tackle Clarence Bolton, who wrecked his knee last week, is causing the deepest concern at present. Bolton may not be ready to start with Ray Devine Friday. Co-Captain Al Titensor, right end; Howard Rash, Joe Crawford and Hal Mosiman, Carl Benson, Dick Connell and LeRoy (Tubby) Viner are ready to go to guard. Bob Holmes, Les Minder, Dan Boyd and Gordon West can take care of the center spot satisfactorily.

Citrus flashed power in losing to the formidable U. S. C. Spartans, 17 to 7, last week. Ray Brown, all-Southern California prep tackle from Anaheim, and Jimmy Montgomery, Eastern all-conference half back sensation, are the mainstays of the tricky Owls, who employ the Notre Dame system. Santa Ana won the Southern California title in '33 despite a 12-6 setback from Citrus, but was virtually knocked from the running last fall by a 12-7 loss from the Claysmen, who have been a perennial jinx to the Dons.

NINTH INNING

Yankees
Dick Coffman went to the mound for the Giants. DiMaggio hit a long foul, and then singled to left. Gehrig slashed a single past Koenig, sending DiMaggio to third. Dickey grounded to Terry and DiMaggio was trapped between third and the plate. DiMaggio scored, however, after Terry threw to Mayo and Danning dropped the ball on the relay to the plate. Gehrig went to third and Dickey to second. Danning was charged with an error. Selkirk was intentionally passed on four pitched balls, filling the bases. Powell drove the ball through Bartlett's legs, scoring Gehrig and Dickey and sending Selkirk to third. Powell reached second on the throw to third base. Harry Gumbert, big right hander, replaced Coffman in the pitcher's box. Lazzeri was purposely passed, loading the bases again. Murphy singled to right on the first pitch, Selkirk scoring, and the bases remaining loaded. Crossett walked, forcing Powell across the plate with their eleventh man of the ball game. Rolfe grounded to Bartlett and Crossett was forced at second, Koenig making the putout. Lazzeri scored as Murphy went to third. DiMaggio smashed a hard grounder that Bartlett stabbed but was unable to throw, and Murphy scored, Rolfe reaching second. It was another hit for DiMaggio. Gehrig smashed a long drive into the right field stands that was foul by only a few feet. Gehrig then worked the count to three and two and walked. Rolfe advancing to third and DiMaggio to second. Dickey walked, swinging on three pitched balls. Selkirk flied to deep right center, Ripple making the catch. The Yanks had set a new World Series scoring record for the ninth inning. Seven runs, five hits, one error, three left.

Giants
Mayo fouled out to Rolfe back of third. Ott flied to Powell. Danning grounded out to Gehrig, unassisted. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

McLarnin Whips Canzoneri, Asks for Chance at Ross

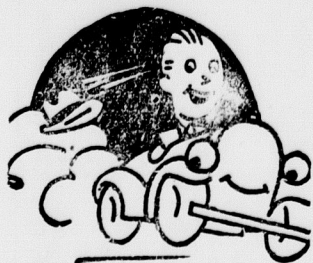

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK—Jimmy McLarnin, ready to hang up his gloves and quit the ring a little more than a year ago, found himself very much in the fight picture again today after giving a shellacking to pug-nosed little Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight king.

McLarnin turned the tables on Canzoneri last night at Madison Square Garden before a crowd of 11,423 cash customers who took time off from the World Series arguments to see the two former titlholders go 10 slashing rounds. Last May Tony gave Jimmy a 10-round licking.

McLarnin carried off the unanimous decision after left-handing Canzoneri into bloody subjection.

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor

By I. N. (BRICK) GAINES

HERE'S a warning to all poachers, short-lobster pickers and other gentry who wouldn't like to meet up with fish and game patrolmen. No matter how hard you try, you won't run away from Capt. Ed Hyde and his new patrol boat!

Yesterday afternoon the new boat arrived at Newport-Balboa. She replaced the Broadbill, which was welcomed vociferously last spring. The Yellowtail, according to fish and game men, is everything a patrol boat should be. Seaworthy, roomy and fast.

Or did I say fast? My goodness—that boat flies, almost. Powered with two 190-horsepower engines, when Capt. Hyde pulls and pushes the boat, it gets the proper expression on his sun-tanned visage, that boat just skims the tops of the waves. A couple of good-sized gasps, and you've traveled two miles!

I mean, the boat can go places without wasting any time!

There seems to be quite a history behind that Yellowtail already, and she's just been placed in service. I learned, late in the spring, that we were going to get a new boat down here, probably late in the year, and that she was to be named Yellowtail. (The fish and game commission names all their boats after fish.)

But, on July 17, we all read of a terrible fire in a San Francisco shipyard, where a new patrol boat was burned.

Right then I gave up hope of seeing a new boat this year, and still they show up with the fine craft yesterday, just as if there hadn't been any fire at all!

Capt. C. H. Groat, genial commission man from up north, explained. He was asked if they saved the boat from the fire, and explained that even the motor of the new craft, then nearly completed, was melted in the terrific heat of the blaze. But the builders immediately moved to another shipyard, almost next door, and started in on a new boat, two days after the fire, and therefore we get the Yellowtail for Orange county.

She's the same size as the old Broadbill—42 feet. Built to travel in heavy seas, if necessary. But where the Broadbill had a single 275-horsepower engine, this has two. Makes for easier handling, greater speed and economy on long runs. Now Capt. Hyde and his crew, Bob Cowell, can travel 400 miles without stopping to breathe.

Too, the pair of motors gives much more room in the cabin. Before the bunks were "way forward," where the atmosphere wasn't of the best. Now two very comfortable bunks are in the front part of the cabin.

All equipment for long cruises has been placed in the new craft. Even to dishes and silverware and a gas stove and refrigerator! The boat will patrol from San Diego to Catalina Island to Santa Barbara and return to Newport, missing the Santa Monica preserve and San Pedro, where other boats will be stationed. She's the pride of the fish and game commission. And I don't blame 'em for being proud!

A gang of us hung around yesterday, waiting for an invitation to go boat riding.

Finally Herbert C. Davis, executive officer of the commission, weakened a little, and immediately everyone from assemblymen and supervisors to common newspaper people swarmed aboard. What followed was more like an airplane ride than a cruise in a boat. We were outside the harbor in less time than it takes to tell about it. We hit good-sized waves and threw water high in the air, and Tom Talbert got a little bit wet, and we all had a good time.

Especially the Scottie dog who was a stowaway. The critter hung around all afternoon, wagging his whole body from his neck back, when anyone paid attention to him. Either someone helped him aboard or he sneaked on by himself, because he was there when we took off.

He was the happiest dog you've ever seen. Snooped in all corners, wagged himself at everyone, and crawled into all available laps. Apparently he was a seagoing dog, because he had more fun than any of us!

Talked about fishing for croaker with Ernie Garner, Fullerton policeman and Izaak Walton. Ernie knows just the spot to catch 'em, but I'm not going to tell anyone where it is. Just wait until they start biting again next spring!

Also on the boat were Les Kimmell, Ben Lemmon and Art Peterson, from Laguna. Tom Talbert, C. P. Patten and Bill Gallienne from Huntington Beach. Supervisor Bill Jerome and Assemblyman Jimmy Utt from Santa Ana. Dr. C. G. Huston, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, and Chief Frank Crocker, Newport Mayor Harry Williamson, J. P. Greeley, Lily Davis, and several others from Newport. And of course the press tagged along—Charlie Crawford, lobster expert,

NEW STATE PATROL BOAT RECEIVED AT NEWPORT HARBOR

STATE HEADS GREETED AT CEREMONY

'Yellowtail' Is Accepted For County by Jerome; Davis Is Visitor

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Bringing a promise of continued efforts toward enforcement of fish and game laws on the Orange county coast, representatives of the state and county, yesterday delivered a new patrol boat to county officials.

The new boat, "Yellowtail," will be stationed permanently in Newport harbor, Davis announced, and will cover a triangular course between San Diego, Catalina Island, Santa Barbara and Newport.

Crowd Greeted Visitors. A large representation of county and city officials met the fish and game commission leaders as they entered the harbor in the new craft, which was completed a few days ago in a San Francisco shipyard. Supervisor W. C. Jerome officially accepted the new boat for the county. There was no formal presentation.

Accompanying Davis on a trip from Santa Monica to Newport were Hal Sackett and Harry Bishop, members of the ocean fish committee of the division of fish and game; Capt. Ed R. Hyde, in charge of the boat, and his assistant, Bob Cowell.

Committee Told. Committees representing Huntington Beach, Laguna, Newport-Balboa and Santa Ana met the state officials as the "Yellowtail" arrived. Included in officials attending were Dr. C. G. Huston, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county; Assemblyman James B. Utt and Supervisor Jerome; Leslie Kimmell, Laguna Beach, fish and game chairman of the Orange County Coast association; Frank Crocker, fire chief of Newport and president of the Balboa Angling club; Game Warden H. C. Jackson, Orange county; T. B. Talbert, P. Patten and W. H. Gallienne, Huntington Beach; Ernest Garner, Fullerton, representing the Izaak Walton league; Mayor Harry H. Greeley, Newport; Capt. C. H. Groat, fish and game commission, and Warden L. G. Van Vorhis.

The new boat is equipped with two 190-horsepower Hall Scott "Invader" engines, and will attain a top speed of nearly 30 miles per hour. She is 45 feet in length and is constructed to withstand the heaviest of seas. Bunks and other equipment for the crew when they spend nights at sea are standard equipment in the craft, which cost the state $8500.

"The Broadbill," formerly stationed at Newport and operated by Capt. Hyde, was moved to Santa Monica, where it will be used in enforcement of the fishing preserve there, officials said.

TO BE G. G. TOPIC

GARDEN GROVE.—Amendments appearing on the November ballot will be explained and discussed by candidates seeking election as assemblymen, senators or congressmen when the Garden Grove Farm Center meets Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Woman's clubhouse, according to an announcement by President H. Clay Kellogg, who stated all candidates are being extended invitations to be present and discuss the measures.

Election of officers for the center will follow the report of the nominating committee: E. C. Whipp, J. W. Crill, E. P. Williams, Mrs. W. O. Broady and Mrs. T. C. Clark. Walter Schmid will give the county director's report, and E. C. Fiebert will sing several numbers accompanied at the piano by his son, Bernard.

Women of the home department will serve refreshments at the close of the meeting. Kellogg has urged all members to be present to hear the amendment discussion.

JUNIOR C. OF C. TO ELECT

GARDEN GROVE.—Election of permanent officers for the recently organized junior chamber of commerce will take place at a dinner meeting in the Blue Bird cafe at 7 o'clock this evening. Other business will include a report by Lester Frink on the proposal of placing a lighted sign on Manchester road to direct traffic to Garden Grove.

Entertainment, according to Program Chairman George Tobias, will be provided by two vaudeville entertainers. All young men between the ages of 18 and 35 have been invited to attend the meeting by the temporary president, Ralph Michelsen.

ADULT CLASSES OPEN AT G. G.

GARDEN GROVE.—Announcement of organization of an art class as a part of the adult education program of the Garden Grove Union high school was made today by vice-principal J. L. Mitchell, who is in charge of adult classes.

The class, offering instruction in wood carving, weaving, pottery, bookbinding, leather tooling and other special types of work, will meet each Wednesday from 3 to 5 p. m. at the art building.

Clubwomen at Orange Hear Talk

ORANGE.—Marie Geissinger, Hollywood, was guest speaker at a Woman's club meeting Monday afternoon, talking on "Comfortable Living." Miss Geissinger is a sister-in-law of Mrs. B. D. Stanley, member of the club. Appearing also on the program was Miss Margaret Rees, teacher of dancing. During a business meeting at which Mrs. Walter Kogler presided, delegates were appointed to attend the Orange county convention of Woman's clubs, Oct. 30, at the Santa Ana Ebell clubhouse.

A. M. Oliveras Leaves on Trip

Line Bucking Is Too Strenuous for San Juan Boy

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—While striving to emulate playing of high school football players, whom he watches in practice daily across the street from his home, Floyd Neiblas, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neiblas, stuck the "pork-hide" under his arm and plunged through the line in a sand-lot game with his neighborhood playmates.

He came up with a broken collar bone.

According to Dr. Paul H. Esslinger, where the young gridiron hero was taken for medical attention, Floyd will be on the sidelines for the balance of the season.

TRAILER CAMP ZONE DENIED

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Upsetting plans of the Irvine company for a huge auto trailer camp on the north shore of Newport harbor, the city council last night refused to allow changes in the zoning ordinance to accommodate the proposed camp, upon recommendation of the city planning commission.

Plans for a huge American Legion hall on the Balboa peninsula also were disclosed when the council received recommendation for a change in zoning between Ninth and Tenth streets on the peninsula so the Legion workers may build their hall. A date for public hearing on the change will be set later by the council.

The council also authorized City Engineer R. L. Patterson to conduct a preliminary survey of erosion on beach frontage near the Newport pier which has removed a large section of sand. Following the survey the council will take action on Patterson's request that the U. S. beach erosion board aid in a survey of waters to a depth of 45 feet or more to seek control of currents which remove the sand.

ENTERTAIN COUPLE. STANTON.—Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cushman are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bernard, who recently returned from a honeymoon trip to Yellowstone park.

SHAM DEBUTANTE

By SHARON WYNNE

When Gay Needham, whose home is a Western ranch, inherits a large sum of money, her mother decides that it should be used to get Gay into society. Moving to New York, Mrs. Needham arranges for her daughter to have a joint debut with Irene Stormley—Gay to surprise the money, and the Stormleys the social prestige. Meanwhile, Gay meets Rodney Sinclair, wealthy young playmate, who falls in love with her. This enrages Irene, for she herself had designs on Rodney. For reasons of her own, she plays up to Gay's young brother, Jack.

CHAPTER IV

No expense had been spared for the Needham-Stormley debut. Even nature was in a lavish mood when the evening finally came. It was a cool, perfect night with a gorgeous moon to add beauty to the roof garden when guests got tired of the ornate jade-and-silver ballroom in the big hotel where the party was held.

Gay was exquisite in silver net over Alice-blue taffeta. Irene was stunning in rose satin which clung daringly to her slim figure. The two girls were so different, it was not possible to compare them, but from the first it was easy to see which was the more popular. The men swarmed around Gay, constantly cutting in on her on the dance floor.

At midnight, she managed to slip away to the ladies' lounge to repair her make-up. Irene was there, sitting moodily in a corner. "Well, how do you like it?" she asked casually.

"It—it's wonderful!" said Gay. "So you've decided that money and all that goes with it is not so bad, after all?" There was a hint of mockery in Irene's tone. "Sometimes I think you misunderstand me, Irene," Gay answered earnestly. "I—of course, I think this is wonderful. Who could help it? But the cost—the expense of just one evening! It would do—that is, there was something back home—a purifying plant for people to . . ."

"Oh, so you're one of those dear souls who wants to do something for the pee-pul!" Irene laughed. "But for a certain reason—is his name Rodney, darling?—you go through with all this."

"Gay's face flushed. "You seem to want to be unpleasant!" she flared. "Well, I won't have it! Not tonight. We—think how we have planned and looked forward to this, Irene. Let's not spoil it. It's—everything is perfect. Please—can't you see?"

"Too well," Irene said curtly. "Go on out and enjoy it—Cinderella."

Rodney was waiting as Gay reentered the ballroom. They moved

ORANGE.—Five blasts of the fire whistle heard each morning at 9 o'clock does not mean that someone's house is burning. It is a reminder that this is Fire Prevention Week, and that at that time all citizens should stop and look around to see if there is some portion of the premises that needs to be cleaned up in order to prevent fires.

Fire drills will be held each day at elementary schools, it was announced by C. I. Thomas, superintendent of schools. It is planned to have Fire Chief A. L. Tomblin speak at the Intermediate school Friday. In the high school, teachers call attention to fire prevention, in each class that is in session when the 9 o'clock alarm sounds.

Mayor A. C. Boice and the city council set aside the week for observation by citizens for fire prevention in accordance with the National Fire Prevention week. Visitors are welcome at the fire station on South Olive street, it was announced by Chief Tomblin, and firemen on duty will explain use of equipment and answer questions.

ORANGE GUILD MEETING HELD

ORANGE.—Bertha Epley guild members of the Christian church met Monday evening at the church with the president, Mrs. Hazel Carr, conducting a business meeting. Devotions were led by Mrs. B. J. Fletcher and Mrs. William Holder gave a talk.

Miss Ellen Suffern, local missionary to China, who is home on furlough, also spoke, telling of her work in that country. A trio composed of Mrs. Leon Des Larzes, Mrs. Arch Burkett and Mrs. Walter Kogler, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Ockels, sang negro spirituals. Tea was served by a hostess committee headed by Miss Sue Rankin, who was also program chairman.

Midway Residents At L. B. Meeting

MIDWAY CITY.—Mrs. Harry Kingsbury, Mrs. Fred Basse and Mrs. Marcus Jungjohann attended the opening meeting of the Long Beach Ebell club yesterday, as guests of Mrs. B. B. Stake-miller, president of the club.

SLATE GARDEN GROVE CLINIC

GARDEN GROVE.—A well-baby clinic, sponsored by the Garden Grove grammar school P-T . . . will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Washington school, according to announcement by the P-T. A. clinic chairman, Mrs. C. P. Bryan.

Dr. Edward Lee Russell of the county health department will be in charge, assisted by Mrs. Bryan and a nurse.

Orange Welfare Drive Progresses

ORANGE.—The annual drive of the local welfare organization has passed the one-third mark of the total needed to carry on the year's work, it was announced today by Mrs. Parker Robertson, treasurer. A total of $1500 is needed and to date $579 has been raised. C. H. Robinson is chairman of the committee.

out on the floor. Rodney was a marvelous dancer. And the thrill of his arms about her—the sheer happiness of his nearness! Gay was flushed and tremulous.

Someone cut in, then someone else. Gay moved through it all in a daze of happiness. Surely this would mean the Dowager Sinclair wouldn't frown upon her. And Rodney had scarcely looked at Irene all evening. His eyes were only for her—Gay.

Jock and Irene danced by just then. Gay saw Irene laugh at something Jock had said, her face close to his. Her hand behind his head patted his hair a second, then nestled at the back of his neck caressingly.

Gay saw them stop at the punch bowl, and trembled as she saw Irene hold up a glass to Jock's lips. Her partner was guiding her out of vision. Gay was glad. She suddenly wished she wouldn't see Irene again the whole evening.

Her glance strayed toward the door. Bernal Van Gordon was standing there. Gay was startled. She hadn't known he planned to attend. He stood looking at the scene, smiling his sardonic smile. Gay closed her eyes. She didn't want to see Van Gordon, either.

The dance ended, and Rodney claimed her again. She forgot Van Gordon and Irene. Nothing mattered as long as Rodney looked at her that way.

It was dawn before Gay got home. But she wasn't tired. She sat before her mirror, starchy-eyed. Yes, her mother had been right. If she hadn't come to New York, she would never have met Rodney. And there was no one in the ranch country like him. No one in the world.

Gay slept until noon the next day. Then, her mother came in carrying a stack of newspapers. "Honey, look!"

There were pictures. Flashes of the splendor of the debut. Close-ups of Irene and Gay. One photographer had caught Gay with Rodney. She shouldn't look at him with her heart in her eyes like that!

The entrance of Jock interrupted her thoughts. "Gosh, I'm all in," he groaned, sinking into a chair. "What do the papers say?"

Mrs. Needham spread them before him.

"Hum-m," he yawned as he looked them over. Then he frowned. "Huh! That doesn't seem fair—for you to steal the whole show. Gay, while Irene is left out in the cold."

"Out in the cold?"

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Plans for reviving the famous "Gold Cup" motorboat races on the Pacific coast, with the first event to be staged on the harbor here next month, were revealed at a meeting of the city council here last night when permission was granted to hold a race in the county channel north of Lido Isle.

The November event will be the first Pacific coast gold cup champion event held in more than 10 years. Contestants, piloting and fastest motorboats on the coast will compete for the "Pacific Motorboat" trophy, donated 15 years ago by a now defunct yachting magazine. Frank A. Garbutt, nationally known racer, is present holder of the cup, having won the last race 10 years ago around Catalina island with his "Mystrery."

Permission to hold the races in the county channel was granted after a long fight by enthusiasts for a racing course in the harbor. Paul H. Lampert, commodore of the Long Beach Yacht club and John C. Stick, commodore of the California Yacht club, appeared before the council to ask permission to hold races.

Landon Accused of Urging Dictatorship; G. O. P. Says Democrats Abuse Treasury

The Journal conducts this forum so that its readers may receive full and authoritative information upon the issues of the presidential campaign. Horace C. Head, chairman of the county Democratic campaign committee, and E. Z. McKinney are in charge of that party's contributions. Howard Irwin, head of the Republican county central committee, and Dr. W. E. Dixon are contributing their party's articles.—Editor's note.

By THE DEMOCRATS
During the great crisis of 1933, Governor Landon referred to congress in belittling fashion as a "debating society" unfit to govern in an emergency.

Declaring that business leaders were "paralyzed," Governor Landon urged the "iron hand of a dictatorship."

His proposal to dismiss the national legislature was in line with the tactics then being employed by European dictators. Rejecting his advice, President Roosevelt retained congress in session and together they worked out a program that saved democracy for the country.

Besides his attack on congress, Governor Landon also attacked the federal courts.

He said the lower federal courts were guilty of "almost scandalous conduct" and of "making a mockery" of utility rate regulation. He failed to supply evidence to support his charges.

In his career as chief executive, Governor Landon has had eight bills declared unconstitutional by the Kansas supreme court. Two of these were farm bills.

"Debating Society"
The speech in which Governor Landon called congress a "debating society" was reported in the Kansas City Journal-Post of May 2, 1933. This dispatch quoted the governor as saying:

"Business leaders apparently are paralyzed. They have lost the vitalizing energy which developed this country from a wilderness to a great industrial nation."

"There are men in this audience who went to bed by candle light when they were boys. We have arrived at the point where it is necessary to learn something new. The only way to do it is by trial and error."

"I think we should support our President in this crisis the same as we always have done in time of war."

"We are departing farther and farther from parliamentary government. Democracy is on trial. The makers of the constitution realized that in a great emergency the country couldn't conduct business with a debating society."

Slant Drilling Measure Opposed

Opposition to Proposition No. 4, allowing oil production from state-owned undersea oil pools from wells above the high-tide mark, had been registered today by the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation commission.

The commission listed four principal reasons for its action, contending adoption of the plan would authorize erection of derricks on dry portions of beaches down to the water's edge, would permit slant drilling into tidelands from Los Angeles beaches, that oil wells on the beaches will destroy them for recreation, and that the proposal which prohibits drilling directly into tidelands is unnecessary since such drilling is already banned by law.

MASONS BOOK FALL PICNIC STAGED BY JAYSEE

Volume Is Indorsed by High Officials of Lodge Order

Sick, a widower, and poverty-stricken, with six small children to care for, a ragged emigrant came into the outskirts of Anaheim in February, 1870, behind a team of weary oxen.

This pioneer, Ransom P. Boswell, was the nucleus of the first Masonic lodge in Orange county, formed on the twenty-seventh day of that month when a handful of Masons, learning Boswell was a Royal Arch Mason, gathered to help him.

This story and other tales of California Masonry are told by Harry J. Gillingham of Santa Ana in his "Pioneer Masonry of the Golden State," a new volume just off the press of the Dennis printers here.

First Lodge Here
The book carries endorsement by John W. Whisler, grand secretary of the Grand lodge, F. and A. M., San Francisco; Leon O. Whitsett, Orange, grand junior warden and member of the state railroad commission, and J. M. Downen, superintendent of the Masonic home at Covina.

Nineteen Masons formed the first lodge in Santa Ana, Gillingham continues, on Oct. 1, 1875. Less than five years after Santa Ana had been platted as a town in Los Angeles county, Albert William Birch was worshipful master when the lodge was given a charter the next year.

Meetings were held in the first Spurgeon building until completion of the first temple at Fifth and Sycamore streets in 1903, which was followed by erection of the present building in 1931.

Opening with a brief history and definition of Masonry, including its beginnings in the United States, the book traces expansion in California since 1848, including its part in the pioneer caravans to the Pacific coast, and adding histories of men prominent in California Masonry.

Final chapters of the book are devoted to Masonry with regard to the Catholic church, lodges in other countries, and other side-lights on the order's history.

McCandless, reported sought by Los Angeles police after his wife was found slain last July 30, was arrested by officers here yesterday.

CHAMPION SCOTTIE, 18 YEARS OLD, DIES
LOS ANGELES.—Bonnie Bairn, aged champion Scottie owned by Mrs. A. Nichols of Burbank, died yesterday at the O'Sleat Kennels.

In another month the little dog would have been 18 years old. Bonnie Bairn's offspring did much to popularize the breed in the west, and won numerous grand championships.

NAB TWO MORE IN WENDEL ABDUCTION
NEWARK, N. J.—Two members of the staff of Ellis Parker, sr., chief of Burlington county detectives, were arrested yesterday on perjury charges in connection with the Paul H. Wendel abduction case. They are Mrs. Anna Badling, his secretary, and G. Olifton Zeller, a county detective.

FALL PICNIC STAGED BY JAYSEE

350 Students Gather at Irvine Park Today at Annual Event

Santa Ana Junior college students were gathered at Irvine park this afternoon to participate in the annual fall picnic sponsored by the Jaysee. More than 350 students are expected, it was announced.

Festivities, which were to begin at 3 p. m., will continue until 11 p. m. Under the direction of Polly Angne, social commissioner, the program will consist of games, a dinner, and a dance. College service clubs are acting as committees.

Games will be played until 5:30 p. m., when supper will be served to the hundreds of assembled students. Following the supper, the rest of the evening will be devoted to dancing in the park pavilion.

Committees for the annual affair are the following: Spinsters, food; Las Meninas, tables and fire; Baccara, dance; Dancers, serving; Las Gitanas and Bachelors, afternoon entertainment; Los Gauchos and Moavs, cleanup, and Junior Lions, tickets.

PROHIBITION DEAD ISSUE, GOV. LANDON BELIEVES
TOPEKA, Kas. (AP)—A group of Missourians discussed the prohibition question with Gov. Alf M. Landon yesterday and announced afterward that "we are thoroughly satisfied with his position. He believes prohibition is a dead issue, as we all do, and a question which, in the future, it is up to the states to decide for themselves," said Alfred Shapleigh, St. Louis, member of the National Republican committee.

LOUISIANA SOCIALISTS LOSE BALLOT FIGHT

Each of our presidents established principles of government. Our present American Democracy is based upon the principles established by our presidents and their political associates. The purpose of this series of sketches is to point out those American principles.—Robert Gardner. Today's sketch tells about John Tyler.—Editor.)

John Tyler took office upon the death of William Henry Harrison. He was never a respecter of parties, but acted on his convictions after studying problems carefully. One of his outstanding characteristics was independence of thought and action. It marked his noble career.

Born March 29, 1790, he was the son of Judge John Tyler and Mary Armistead. Educated at William and Mary college, he was a lawyer and an Episcopalian. He married Letitia Christian, and they had three sons and four daughters. After the death of his first wife, he married Julia Gardiner, and to them were born five sons and two daughters. He was elected vice president in 1840, and took office on the death of Harrison soon after his inauguration. He died Jan. 18, 1862.

Notable events during his career as President were the annexation of Texas and the construction of the first telegraph system. Neither party considered re-nominating him, but a rump convention offered to support him. He declined, however.

His independence of thought upset the whole Whig program. He vetoed the act re-incorporating the United States bank. He went to Washington in 1861 turned yesterday the Union party's request for placing its candidates on Maryland's ballot next month. Jones acted after receiving an opinion from Attorney General Herbert R. O'Connor that the certificates "are not filed in accordance with the requirements of the election laws of the state."

Reciprocity Luncheon Is Planned for Orange County P. E. O.'s This Month

Two Groups Open Year Monday

AB Meets With Mrs. Spurgeon; GJ at Bowman Home

All P. E. O. chapters of Orange county will come together at Laguna Beach on Friday, Oct. 16, when they gather for the reciprocity luncheon planned at Las Anas by Chapter AB of Santa Ana.

Plans for this first big function of the fall in P. E. O. circles were made yesterday at AB's opening meeting, and all P. E. O. members wishing to attend are asked to contact Mrs. T. E. Stephenson of that group.

Twenty-three members of AB chapter enjoyed the luncheon yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon, 1617 North Main street. Mrs. Harry L. Hanson assisted Mrs. Spurgeon in her hostess duties, serving a delicious buffet luncheon from a table covered with pompon dahlias in autumn tones.

Vacations on Program After the luncheon, echoes of their vacations were brought to the group by the various members, who in this way made up their own first program of the year. Trips to Japan, to Canada, to the far south, and the east provided interesting conversation for the afternoon hours, and word was also brought from two members still traveling in the east. Mrs. Susie Rutherford and Mrs. Mabel Morrow.

The group extended a courtesy to their hostess, Mrs. Spurgeon, who was celebrating her wedding anniversary, presenting her with a gift in honor of the occasion.

Luncheon at Tea Room Chapter GJ had its opening luncheon yesterday also, choosing the Doris Kathryn tearoom for the setting and enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Harry Bowman as hostess.

Fall blossoms centered the tables at which places were laid for 18 of the chapter members. In the afternoon, the group adjourned to the Bowman home on South Broadway for their regular meeting, during which they made plans to attend the reciprocity luncheon at Laguna Beach.

The next meeting of GJ chapter is to be on Oct. 19 at P. E. O. Manor in Alhambra, where the members will convene in the afternoon. Reports of the recent rummage sale of the chapter showed most satisfactory results.

With resumption of regular meetings on the first and third Mondays of the month, interesting plans are being made by both chapters for the coming weeks, launching their activities with the luncheon at Laguna.

DAUGHTER FETED ON ANNIVERSARY

A pleasant affair was the little dinner party given Sunday evening by Mrs. Nell D. Winslow, complimenting her daughter, Lois, Mrs. I. K. Klumb, on her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Winslow had decorated her dining table very attractively with roses, and climaxed the delicious menu with a birthday cake replete with frosting decorations and blazing candles.

Those enjoying her hospitality were the honoree, Mrs. Klumb, Mr. Klumb, and the couple's son Fred of China; another daughter, Mrs. J. R. Smith and her husband and sons Dick and Jack of Los Angeles; Bert Winslow, an aviation instructor in Los Angeles, and Miss Dorothea McFarland of Santa Ana.

MRS. FORGY HAS BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. O. M. Forgy, 204 South Sycamore street, was hostess yesterday afternoon to a bridge club which has existed for more than 20 years in Santa Ana. Members enjoying her hospitality were Mrs. Charles Kendall, Mrs. Walter Prince, Mrs. Ralph Mosher, Mrs. Walter Vandermast, Mrs. O. H. Egge and Mrs. George Briggs. Mrs. L. A. Collier substituted at the afternoon's play.

TRIM MARIAN MARTIN FROCK HELPS TO MAKE YOUR MORNINGS BRIGHT

PATTERN 9772 Collarless and short of sleeve, this little frock's the answer to every homemaker's idea of something cool and comfy for arduous household tasks. Its freedom of line fairly pleads to be kept busy, while its neatness and spic and span freshness delight in being taken unawares by an unexpected caller. This joyous style is as easy to make as it's fair to behold, and as a result, you'll want to run up several. See the high-pointing skirt panel, and the way it follows through to become a perky back sash? Buttons can be bright and decorative as you wish, and a pretty tub cotton, such as percale, or chambray, will make this your favorite. Complete diagrammed Marian Martin sew chart included.

Pattern 9772 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric. Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and style number.

Be Sure to State Size Just out!—the new issue of our Marian Martin Pattern Book! Order yours today, and be first to make and wear its glorious new fall styles. Smart, appropriate things that you can run up in no time; frocks for home, business, street wear, sports and partying. There's lots for the youngsters, too. Don't miss the holiday gift suggestions! Book 15 cents. Pattern 15 cents. Twenty-five cents for both when ordered together.

Send your order to The Santa Ana Journal, Pattern Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana.

FASHION SHOW WILL FOLLOW BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Complete plans for the fall fashion show and bridge-luncheon being given Thursday afternoon by St. Joseph's Altar society, were announced today.

The affair will begin with a luncheon served at 12 sharp at the Knights of Columbus hall. A short business session will follow this, with contract and auction being played later.

During the card session will be shown the latest styles in knitted clothes, under the direction of Miss Helen Gallagher of the Workbasket. Fashionable hats to complement them will be supplied by Mrs. Nanette Richards, and suitable comments on the display will be made by Miss Helen Rossman of New York, fashion expert.

The modeling will feature styles for older women, and yet will have many youthful fashions. Those who will model are Mrs. H. Schmidt, Mrs. U. J. Engelmann, Miss Ursula Creighton, Miss Cecilia Toler, Miss Helen Johnson and Miss Dorothy Kolbe.

The luncheon will be in charge of Mrs. George Young, who is to be assisted by Mrs. William Cassler, Mrs. J. A. Crawford, Mrs. Robert Aitken and Miss Mary Walsh.

Arrangements for the bridge and fashion show have been made by Mrs. J. P. Murphy, Mrs. J. H. Bray, Mrs. F. F. Mead, Mrs. Robert Heffner, Mrs. A. Emmett and Mrs. R. B. Bird.

Music will be supplied by Mrs. Zola Maag of Orange and decorations for the hall will be in the capable hands of Mrs. J. H. Lipsett.

Reduced admission will be charged those who wish to attend the luncheon alone, or the bridge and fashion show.

A. A. U. W. MEETINGS START THURSDAY NIGHT

All who are eligible for membership in the American Association of University Women are invited to attend the opening meeting of the Orange county branch Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. rooms on East Fifth street, plans for which were made at a board meeting the latter part of last week.

The board convened at the home of the president, Miss Martha Ehlan, in Orange, also taking up as an important early event on the calendar the regional conference to be held October 17 at Whittier college. Mrs. Merle Swain of Whittier, state president, several of the state chairmen are to be present at the meeting, which will be an all-day session.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION IN KANSAS CITY

Rev. Mr. W. S. Buchanan of the First Christian church and A. W. Gerrard of 2422 Heliotrope drive, left yesterday, in company with the Rev. Mr. W. C. Cheverton and Mrs. Cheverton of Whittier, for Kansas City, where they will attend the international convention of the Disciples of Christ, Oct. 12 to 18.

The four are motoring, and plan to visit on the way Boulder dam, Grand canyon and the Painted Desert.

Mrs. Gerrard is spending the two weeks in Whittier with the children of the Cheverton family.

Club Women Make Own Program

Not the butcher, the baker, nor the candlestick maker, but occupations just as interesting, were given "publicity" last night at the regular dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club at Doris Kathryn, when each member present was introduced and gave a short talk about her business or profession and how she happened to get into her chosen line of work.

The program was arranged by the publicity committee of the club, which includes Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, chairman, and Mrs. Betty Cox Bodenhamer, assistant.

Members Introduced Among those giving talks were Harriet Whidden, Louise Kaiser, Marie Fowler, Dorothy Decker, Laura McNaught, Lena Thomas, Ethel Lockwood, Hazel Northcross, Juanita Snyder, Lorraine French, Catherine Stinson, Effie White, Mabel Whiting, Edith Thatcher, Artie Cleveland, Ruth Rensberger, Ella Vezie, Olivia Clark, Hester Covington and Mabel Wiseman, and the committee members.

Occupations represented included doctor's office assistants, title company workers, teachers, bookkeepers, authors, society editors, stenographers, hairdressers, mortician's assistant, ready-to-wear saleswomen, and a number of others.

District Convention Before the program, Miss Lena Thomas, the president, introduced Glenn Tidball, general chairman of the Community Chest campaign, who spoke on the present drive.

Announcement was also made of the southern district convention to be held in Hemet, Oct. 17 and 18, with headquarters at the Hotel Alessandro, and with a banquet Saturday night and breakfast and luncheon Sunday. Speakers will include H. V. Adams of the Security First National bank in Los Angeles, whose subject will be "Society's Upward Spiral," and Augusta Rosenberg of Los Angeles and a hobby parade will be a unique feature.

BETTY ASHLAND SUPPER HOSTESS ON BIRTHDAY

Fourteenth birthday anniversary of Miss Betty Ashland was the incentive for a gay winter bake and supper party in the backyard of the E. W. Ashland home on Cypress street last night, when a group of her friends were invited to celebrate the occasion with her. A birthday cake had an important place on the outdoor table at which the supper was enjoyed, and nut cups in the form of flowers added to the festivity of the scene.

A bouquet of cosmos sent in by a neighbor, Mrs. F. H. Williams, centered the table.

Prizes went to Phyllis Brockbank and Ruth Wallace.

RAYMERS HOSTS TO CONTRACT CLUB GROUP

Inviting as their guests the members of a contract club with whom they have frequently played as substitutes, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Raymer entertained at an informal little party Sunday evening in their home on North Ross street.

Before the card playing started, the hosts served a dessert course at the three small tables, which were centered with chrysanthemums in yellow and bronze tones.

Those finding places at the tables were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Skirvin, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Alet Brownridge, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Tradewell, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sprague and the host and hostess.

Prizes in the contract play went to Mrs. Williams and Mr. Tradewell, who made the high scores of the evening.

WOMEN TO HAVE POLITICAL TALK

Members of the Woman's society of the First Baptist church are looking forward to an excellent program at their meeting tomorrow, which will be preceded by work in the morning and a covered dish luncheon at noon.

Mrs. John C. Urquhart of Los Angeles, past state president of the California Federation of Women's clubs, past president of the Western Federation of Women's clubs, a member of the League of Women Voters, public affairs chairman of the morning and W. C. T. U. of Southern California, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Urquhart is also a past president of the League of Nations Association of Southern California, and is now chairman of the Cause and Cure of War society.

She will be present at the luncheon and will discuss the proposed amendments on the November ballot during the afternoon.

Constitution Is D.A.R. Topic

With a new meeting time, the first Monday instead of the first Saturday, chosen for the new year, Santa Ana chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution opened the 1939-40 season yesterday with an afternoon session at the home of Mrs. E. G. Summers, 624 South Ross street.

Twenty-two members and one guest, Mrs. A. Hunt, a former Illinois member, were present. Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, chapter regent, presided over the meeting, during which plans were made for the coming months and for the Southern Council session at which the local chapter will be hostess Nov. 17. All day sessions and a luncheon are being arranged in Santa Ana Elbell clubhouse for that day.

Mrs. Cotton Mather, program chairman, presented as speaker of the afternoon yesterday, Lynn Crawford, principal of the high school, who talked on "The Constitution."

Tea was served at the close of the day at a prettily appointed table at which Mrs. P. E. Earel and Miss Mabel Larrick poured. The hostess committee included the Mesdames Jennie Crawford, Jessie Albright, Harley Neill, Alice Hill Hatch, DeWitt Dudley, A. E. Philcox, and Mrs. Summers. Mrs. Mac O. Robbins will be hostess at the next meeting, at her home at 2123 North Main street.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD PRESIDES AS HOST TODAY

Bob McCalla's fourth birthday formed the occasion today for a gay little children's party at the R. H. McCalla home at 423 South Flower street, when Bob's mother entertained in honor of the anniversary.

Games on the lawn provided an hour or so of fun for the 10 children participating in the celebration, and at the close of the afternoon, Mrs. McCalla invited them into the home where the children found their places at a lovely pink birthday table.

The cake with its four candles was the center of attraction, together with the favors and little pink nut cups at the places.

The birthday guests were Douglas and Philip Thorpe, and Bob and Bud McCalla of Tustin, Roger Perkins of Orange, and Jimmie Utt, Bob and Jackie Hason, Eleanor Willits, and the host, of Santa Ana.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR LITTLE BOY

A delightful little party marked Richard Trujillo's fourth birthday anniversary Sunday when Mrs. Frank Trujillo entertained at dinner in her home at 620 East Adams.

Before finding places at the table, the children played games out-of-doors. Richard's little cousins were all present, and late in the afternoon pictures were taken for the young host's baby book. Two aunts, Ramona Trujillo and his Aunt Lulu, also shared in the day's events.

After Richard had blown out his quota of the green candles on his cake, refreshments were served to the guests, and a big piece of the cake with one candle was sent to the little boy's uncle, Armand, who is in the hospital.

MISSIONARY GROUP MEETS

The Missionary society of the First Christian church will have a program in the educational building tomorrow at 1 p. m. after a noonday lunch. The Rev. Frank Stipp of Brea will be guest speaker.

Mary Stoddard Don't Try to Force Affection But Seek Mutual Love and Respect

By MARY STODDARD Unrequited love! Of all hopeless things this is perhaps the most hopeless! Love can't be forced, although sometimes it does bloom in ground that has seemed pretty arid. But in a case similar to the following, which seems to indicate complete disinterest, even bore can only advise John to pull up his stakes and forget it! Time is a merciful healer, and even though he does fancy himself madly in love, he will recover.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HAS HALLOWE'EN APPOINTMENTS

Hallowe'en came early for a group of first graders at Jefferson school, who were invited Saturday afternoon to a gay Hallowe'en and birthday party at the C. D. Hopkins home, 622 Riverine.

The occasion was the sixth birthday anniversary of Miss Ruth Hopkins, and some of her little schoolmates and her former kindergarten teacher, Miss Eleanor Crookshank, were invited to celebrate the day with her.

Assembling early in the afternoon, the children first enjoyed much scurrying about the lawns and gardens in search of peanuts, Zola Wright finding the most and winning a pretty little prize, and then tested their skill in pinning tails on a black cat, in which game Mary Louise Dunbar proved most proficient.

For the birthday refreshments, the guests were invited into the house and seated at one long table lighted in the center by an eerie Jack-o'-lantern. Tiny candles also blazed on the individual birthday cakes at the places, and Hallowe'en favors added to the fun and merriment.

Among those invited to participate in the jolly event with Ruth were Edna Burke, Patricia Dilley, Susan Fowler, Mary Louise Dunbar, Della May Heckart, Janice Kelly, Marilyn Nielson, Barbara Thompson, Zola Wright, Katherine and Barbara Williams, Mary Katherine and Donna Olewiler, Barbara Jo Wilson, Marianne Smith and Natalie Cantman.

Mrs. J. Russell Wilson and Miss Crookshank, who were assisting Mrs. Hopkins, and Mrs. Fred Rowland, who called at the end of the afternoon, also shared in the celebration, as did also Harvey Hugh Hopkins, small brother of the young hostess.

TUSTIN P-T-A. WILL MEET THURSDAY

"Taxation As Affecting the Schools" will be the subject of the panel discussion which will feature the program of the Tustin Grammar School Parent-Teacher Association when it meets Thursday at 2:30 p. m. in the kindergarten room of the school.

Among those participating in the discussion, led by Mrs. Golden Weston, will be James B. Utt, Arthur Corey, and Ernest Harwood.

Mrs. William Cook will lead community singing, and the eighth grade mothers will have charge of the social hour at the close.

WAYNE HERZIG HONORED TODAY

Wayne Herzig will blow out 11 candles tonight on the birthday cake planned for a small family dinner party tonight at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Herzig, 1401 Louise street.

The occasion is Wayne's 11th birthday anniversary, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, have been invited to help celebrate the day.

Assistance Club Has Luncheon

Mrs. Mortimer Plumb and Mrs. Howard Timmons assumed hostess responsibilities for the Day Nursery Assistance club yesterday in the absence of Mrs. James Irvine, chairman of the group, at whose home on Myford Road the regular semi-monthly luncheon and bridge afternoon was held.

The members and substitute guests were seated at the large table in the dining room and the smaller one out in the breakfast room, each centered with a low turquoise blue plaque filled with gold pompon dahlias.

Mrs. Irvine, who is in San Francisco this week, will be back in time to preside as hostess at the next regular meeting of the group on Oct. 19 at her home.

POEM RECEIVES RADIO PRIZE

Honors came to one of Santa Ana's writers this past week when the prize awarded every Wednesday by the radio station KPDV poetry hour program went to Miss Beulah May of this city. Miss May's poem, "A Prayer for Little Beasts," was read on the program, and was chosen first for the day by popular vote.

KVOE TEACHES ASTRONOMY

One of the most interesting of the adult education broadcasts being made from KVOE Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays is scheduled for this evening at 5:30 when Cecil Wilson, instructor in astronomy at Lathrop evening high school, will discuss "Popular Astronomy."

This series of broadcasts is scheduled for several Tuesdays at the same hour.

The adult education broadcasts, scheduled at 5:30 p. m., are made in cooperation with the adult education department, Santa Ana city schools, of which Mrs. Golden Weston is director. W. W. Wieman, principal of the Lathrop evening high school is collaborating. Goss Gable, head of the social science department of Newport Harbor High school, will speak on "What the Orange County Public Forum Means to the Harbor District" during the forum broadcast from KVOE tomorrow morning at 10:30.

He will be presented by W. W. Wieman, director of the broadcasts scheduled daily except Saturdays and Sundays at the same hour.

Jean Hersholt Story on KVOE

What happens to "brave" men of the movies when they meet brown bears on the highway, the story of Jean Hersholt as an inventor, and music by Paul Martini and his orchestra with the Sovereign Ensemble, will comprise tonight's edition of "Through the Hollywood Lens" on KVOE at 7 o'clock.

At 7:30, Ben Bernie "and all the lads" will entertain with more music and a verbal plea on behalf of the Santa Ana Community Chest.

Eight o'clock will bring another "Out of the Past to You" program, to include such melodies as "Comin' Through the Rye," "Sleep," "O Sole Mio" and others, featuring the Salon Strings, Herbert Allen at the console of the pipe organ, and John Chapman, tenor.

Bad Table Manners Are a Give-Away

Gretchen thinks she's passing herself off as a person of culture. But her table manners are a dead give-away.

She whacks and stabs at roast, potatoes and vegetable—reducing all to mince-meat before she eats. She brandishes elbows in mid-air, holds her fork awkwardly, and spreads her napkin like a blanket on her lap.

Well-bred diners cut off only one piece at a time and keep elbows lowered inconspicuously while cutting. They hold the fork easily with forefinger extended along the handle. And they lay the napkin across the lap in a double or triple fold—unless it's a tea napkin.

Learn little points of etiquette that make you welcome at smart places. Our 32-page booklet teaches manners at restaurants and clubs as well as at home dinners, formal and informal.

Send 10 cents for your copy of Good Table Manners to The Santa Ana Journal, Home Service, 117 East Fifth Street. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

'KEEP SMILING' HOUR CHANGES

"Health Service" is the topic of the interesting message to be delivered during the Keep Smiling program to be broadcast from KVOE at a new hour this evening: 6:15.

The manner in which this new, yet old system of healing operates will be explained in further detail. It was practiced centuries ago in Europe in a crude way.

The Keep Smiling program has been broadcast from KVOE for several years on Tuesdays at 6 p. m. Beginning tomorrow, it will be heard at 6:15.

Intelligent Voting Impossible

WITH some two dozen propositions on the ballot November 3, a hard job faces the California voter who wishes to make his choice conscientiously.

Booklets containing the texts of the measures, and the arguments pro and con, will be distributed about 10 days before the election. But not many people have the time or inclination to make a thorough study of each measure. And many voters—frustrated at the size of the book—may not even turn a page.

Consequently, they'll have to stamp their ballots "blind." That is, unless they are willing to follow the advice of someone else. And there is danger in this, too, since interests with an axe to grind are pouring out a stream of propaganda which probably is not 100 per cent truthful.

Under the circumstances, it will be impossible to get a cross-section of what the public really thinks about the measures. Intelligent voting becomes impossible when the ballot is so large.

King Solomon's temple cost $5,720,424,000, according to a new book on Masonry by Harry J. Gillingham of Santa Ana. Wonder how much more it would have been as a WPA project?

Tiger Boy—Tiger Men

CHARGED with trying to beat a baby's brains out with an iron bar, a 7-year-old boy is under surveillance by police at Bellingham, Wash. The youngster is said to have expressed sorrow that he didn't kill the smaller child. Newsmen have dubbed him "the tiger boy."

"How horrible!" you exclaim. "There must be something warped in his brain."

Yet in Europe today Mussolini, Hitler and Stalin are laying plans, which, if carried through, will mean the brutal extinction of hundreds of thousands of men, women and babies.

Far from expressing sorrow over the situation, they are openly boastful of what they mean to do to those whom they have selected for victims.

There is not a lot of difference—basically—between the murderous impulses of Bellingham's "tiger boy" and the selfish course of personal and national aggrandizement now being plotted by the ruthless tyrants in Europe.

A nudist leader says bathing suits will disappear in a few years. He is somewhat conservative, to judge from the way they are shrinking now.

Best Kind of News

IT'S A PLEASURE to pick up the paper after a hard day and find sandwiched among articles of war and politics, an item which details some act of kindness or honesty. It rejuvenates faith in human nature.

Such a story was in The Journal yesterday. It told how Dr. F. H. Johnston of Delhi found a purse containing $300 cash and returned it to the owner. We don't know what that $300 meant to its owner—perhaps it paid the last note on a home, perhaps it was intended to send a boy or girl to college, perhaps it was to meet a payroll. Whatever it was for, we'll bet the owner was glad to get it.

Honesty is not only the best policy, but it is also the highest wisdom. The Journal is glad to be able to print stories about men like Dr. Johnston who practice one of the best human virtues.

Three men cheated a Midwestern farmer out of $1,500 in a poker game. To even up, he'll have to put in longer hours at not farming.

Get on the Bandwagon

PROSPERITY is commencing to visit Santa Ana in a big way. No doubt about it. Everyone admits it.

The housing situation, which is one of the fundamental gauges of prosperity, is booming. More people are creating homes and settling down to stay.

The other fundamental gauge—employment—is picking up, although there are still too many men and women out of good jobs. But a certain amount of unemployment is present, even in the best of times, and it's bound to be worse after such a serious depression.

Santa Ana is moving ahead. American industry is once more taking up the slack. And that means better jobs, more opportunities, great security, sooner or later, for everyone who has the brains and energy to climb aboard the prosperity bandwagon.

Every woman thinks she understands men, but no wise man believes he understands women.

Il Duce Mends His Fences

FOLLOWING the example of France, England and the United States, Italy devalues its gold lira. Italian coinage thus takes its place along with the other money of the world at a new low level—but in such a way that the internal debt load will be lightened and foreign trade stimulated.

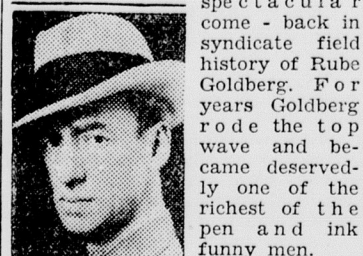

At the same time, Il Duce orders tariffs to be cut on some commodities, and decrees that rents and public utility rates shall not be raised for two years in order to protect the consumer from a sudden jump in living costs due to devaluation of the lira.

Apparently Mussolini feels the need of mending his fences abroad and at home as a result of the severe damage they suffered over the Ethiopian outrage.

come - back in syndicate field history of Rube Goldberg. For years Goldberg rode the top wave and became deservedly one of the richest of the pen and ink funny men.

Then, when a shade past 50, came the inevitable dip in popularity that comes to all limmers and in almost every instance means professional oblivion. But Rube has beaten Fate's rap. He might easily have become a gentleman of leisure and spent the rest of his years enjoying life in the grand manner.

But he bided his time—and to appearances was taking the upset standing and with a smile. Behind the scenes he was a bit unhappy and spending most of his hours clutching the Big Idea that would put him back in the running. And after two years—Eureka!—he found it.

A wide-awake young syndicate man, Frank Markey, sponsored the idea. A marinated pickled in the amusingly exaggerated Goldbergian style, called Lala Palooza, and Rube is out front again with a hefty string of papers. Not once during the travail did Rube fail to go to his drawing board daily. A lesson there, my masters!

Harry Lauder sends an old crowd to the Players this one: Scotch golfer—My, lad, are you my caddie?

Yessir.

How good are you at finding lost balls?

Very good.

Well, look around and find one so we can start.

One of the forlorn two-by-two cafes niched in the West Fifty-second street jostle hit upon this dido for a boost over a dull period. It rigged up camera lights and movie picture paraphernalia at the entrance to create impression it was on the brink of a celebrity stampede. And as a result that assorted crashing crowd known inelegantly as "lens lics" flocked to the empty tables in hope of achieving a pinch of space in the society pages and a caricature in Mark Hellinger's Sunday spread. New York!

No theatrical first nighters have been so constant in attendance and cash patronage the past few years as a plump middle-aged couple known to the critics as Mr. and Mrs. Ira Katzenberg. They are in at the kill of every flop, no matter how obscure, and at the birth of every hit, no matter how opulent. They invariably occupy front pew aisle seats. Despite unflattering assistance, I have never during my years of watching seen them how to any other regular. If they like or dislike the performance they do not show it.

Tallulah Bankhead's opening nights bring out in full ermine crush that showy brigade of first nighters who come not to see the play but to be seen themselves. The hand-wavers who yoo-hoo across the room: "See you at Southampton tomorrow!" They are the mayhem inspirers who have to receive a half dozen lobby calls to take their seats so the show can go on. And even then they trickle in all during the first act.

To my notion, the greatest progress and brilliance in newspaper writing in the past few years have been accomplished by the new crop of sports writers. I refer to Bill Corum, Joe Williams, Quentin Reynolds and several others whose names elude me at the moment. I have a zero interest in sports, football, baseball, tennis, hockey, boxing, etc. Yet I read the sporty columns with interest and with a certain amount of respect. The hand-wavers who yoo-hoo across the room: "See you at Southampton tomorrow!" They are the mayhem inspirers who have to receive a half dozen lobby calls to take their seats so the show can go on. And even then they trickle in all during the first act.

After an absent-minded bit of jay walking near Radio City I started in the rain, with a hop on it, a traffic cap's bawl-out. But when he came menacingly toward me with a "What's that?" I completely wilted into a Casper Milquetoast pip-squeak. I felt much like that figure in a Bozeman Bulger story of the colored umpire, small of stature, but loud of voice at a negro ball game. He called "Strike one!" A moment later he waved his arm and belted: "Strike two!" The big buck batter scowled and shouted: "Two what?" Piped the umpire meekly: "Too high!"

In a recent sports parade held in Moscow, Russia, skiers held an important part. However, there was no snow, so how were they to show to best advantage? Finally the skis were fitted with ball-bearing wheels similar to those on roller skates. So, dressed in winter garb, the athletes propelled themselves along with their ski poles.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

(Editor's Note: The guest column that today resumes the Pearson-Allen vacation is a remarkable story by Eddie Dowling, actor, author and producer of such Broadway successes as "Honeydew Lane," "Sally, Irene and Mary," "Thumbs Up," etc., and chairman of the theatrical division of the Democratic national committee.)

By EDDIE DOWLING
Famous Comedian and Broadway Producer

This may be politics, which Drew and Bob say is barred from a guest column, but I am going to tell the story of how Al Smith drifted away from Franklin Roosevelt.

I am a Catholic, I am Irish, and I am an old friend of Al Smith. Like Al's mother and father, mine didn't have a cent. At 12 I was a cabin boy at sea, when Al was cleaning fish in the Fulton market. I have known Al, rooted for him, raised money for him ever since he started up the ladder of politics.

Al has gone a long way since then—though not in the direction he started—and I am afraid I may have given him the first push that diverted him to the plush carpets and gilded elevators of Wall Street.

It came about chiefly through John J. Raskob.

I had met Raskob when the Oberammergau Passion Players were here selling their woodcuts and trying to raise money to carry on their great pageant. They had sold enough to keep them busy for four years, but got tangled up with a phoney agent who left them stranded and penniless in the U. S. A. They were just down and out.

RASKOB GENEROSITY

Well, some of my friends told me about it and I thought of John J. Raskob, who had been around to some of my shows. John, I knew, was an Alsatian, so I called him on the phone, and brought the entire group of Oberammergau players down to Wilmington. He listened to their story, and paid their expenses back to Germany.

Al Smith was then running for election as governor and the Republicans were trying to smear him with the milk racket. Raskob asked me about it, and I said: "Nobody like Al, with a bunch of kids of his own, is going to steal milk from the kids of New York City, and if you don't believe it I'll take you up to see him."

So we went up. Al always had suite 2021 at the Biltmore during the campaign, and I went in the bedroom door because there were a lot of callers in his sitting room. Al was on the wire talking to the editor of The New York Sun. "If you don't retract that slander about me and the milk racket," Al bellowed, "you'll have a libel suit cracked down on you that'll knock your presses onto the pavement."

"That convinces me," says Raskob. "That's all I want to hear."

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

October Holds Memories of Midsummer's Dreams

Many Californians refer to the country east of the Rockies as "back home." And during these warm October days wistful memories are stirred to life more poignantly than ever. Pulsing summer subsidies to a soothing hush, waiting, waiting for the heavy tread of the storm-king. Early frosts, with brush and pencil, are limning the oaks and maples with the alchemy of genius. On mountainsides the prodigal artists spill their paint-pots in a ravishing riot of color. Summer's last lingering blooms are closing their vagrant curtains in dutiful farewell.

October was never designed for civilized man. Only those living close to the soil, who draw their sustenance from "earth's sweet flowing breast" can know the ebb and flow of seasons. Heated apartments, bounded by smudgy walls and lifeless pavement, smothered with murky skies, have nothing to do with the zest and tang which accompany the magical change from summer's bloom to winter's blight. Civilized man may consider himself amazingly clever in putting shoes on his feet and a derby on his head, in turning a dial to writhen under a crooner's drooling rather than attune his dull hearing to the myriad choir of untamed elements which throb and beat in the "toss and tumble" of these October days.

Their publication does not necessarily imply the opinions they express are shared by The Journal. Letters must be signed, although signatures will be omitted upon request.

REPLIES TO CLARK

To the Editor: The Man of One Opinion seems to be the re-hasher for the Los Angeles Times and the Hearst publications. Perhaps if he changed his course in reading his column might be more interesting and worth while.

It is said he is noted for his remarkable memory for dates, so I suggest he ponder deeply these: Harding 1924, Coolidge 1928, Hoover 1932 and these more recent ones—1933-'34-'35 and '36. I wonder if this M. O. O. ever saw a starving human being? Well, I did, and in the city of Los Angeles in the year 1932. And did this same M. O. O. ever go to a bank to borrow a small sum of money to meet a need and be made to feel he was a beggar or a thief? Well, I had that experience, too.

Mr. M. O. O., did you hear the P. T. A.'s all over the land begging for milk, soup, fruit and clothing; did you as a teacher ever go into some of those needy homes right here in Santa Ana? Was there a day passed that someone was not at your door asking for food or work and you had neither for them? Did you ever drive on the highways and try to count the "tramps" upon the road? Did you ever pick up any of these and study them? Those are of the Hoover dates.

Boondoggling! Communist! Did you read Dr. Fechner's report on education and the CCC? Mr. M. O. O., you seem worried over the shiny new autos, and I wonder how the auto industry feels over their 337 per cent increase since 1933? Perhaps some auto worker's child is in "daily attendance" thereby helping your own pocketbook. Did you hear the President say the national income for 1932 was 38 billion and will be 60 billion for 1936? Someone must have had a chance to pay some debts and repair their leaky roofs and for one give much praise and many thanks to our great President for his doing something. It is easy to be a critic and a re-hasher.

Skinny Skribbles

Around and About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

Governor Merriam has called our attention to a special newspaper week—and it's this week. So far as I am concerned, governor, it wasn't necessary. Every week has been newspaper week with me for so many years that I've sort of become accustomed to it. Sumpin' like hanging—you can get used to that, too, if you're a cat. But it was nice of you, governor, to say something to other people about it. I'll tell you how you can help us newspaper fellows. You tell that guy who picks up the paper and says "there ain't anything in it," that it took a lot of fellows all day and part of the night to run all over h— and parts of California, telephone, edit about 30,000 words of press reports from all over the world, set out the sports, the news, the correspondence, try and please the ladies, and editorialize on the more important issues, and that it all did not just happen.

The excitement was too much yesterday. World's Series, Cole-Beatty circus and a parade thrown in brought the population down town. Business district congested, traffic tripped, and nerves shattered. The situation calmed down with the passing of the parade. Been a long time since the circus came down town, and the "kiddies" were there to welcome it. It was a great circus. I'm glad it's gone. There isn't so much perambulating competition.

Bob Swanson, editor of El Don, sears and publican, wants a signal installed at Tenth and Main. Try and get it. Bob evidently is of the opinion that traffic has more respect for signals than for cops. The signal is better inasmuch as it gives both pedestrian and autoist an even break.

Press reports carried a story about a patron of an Eastern picture show pushing the palm of his hand across the mouth of a chattering magpie who sat in front of him, after she had refused to accept repeated request for silence. He was arrested, but the court dismissed him on the good old constitutional grounds that we should have a "decent regard for the rights of others." I have often wanted to do the same thing with an Eastern friend, but lacked the courage of my convictions. In other words I was afraid I would get the worst of the encounter.

Sam Jernigan came downtown Monday afternoon, just because it is a custom. Lot of folks thought he wanted to see the circus parade. I notice that he had Guy Darnell helping him.

And then Chet Dale told me a story about "his gang" carrying water for the elephant. He said after the ordeal, and it was that, the hard-boiled keeper told them to scram, that there wasn't any circus so far as the water boys were concerned. Other words, they were not going to get to see the circus. So when the hard-boiled keeper wasn't looking, one of the kids who was dissatisfied with the compensation, picked up a big club and hit the fellow in the back of the neck. He flopped over like a mackerel. When he went down, the kid remarked: "You ain't goin' get to see the circus either."

Business was practically suspended during the parade. When a solid and conservative bank official "steps out" to see the elephant and listen to the callopie, it indicates that we never get away from our boyhood. I could tell you of my experiences, but they are no different than yours, so I have them already. Lots of "kiddies" only get to see the parade. I hope they have more of them.

No question in Southern California furnishes a more interesting subject for consideration than water. Whether it is irrigation, the natural rainfall or by what method obtained, water is the aristocrat. So when our friend, Martin C. Murray, the Huntington Beach weather prognosticator, discusses rain and when we get it, it supplies a topic which grips our thought, and we watch his predictions as they come and go, hoping all the time that the weather man will confirm his prophecies. Ample rainfall throughout the rainy season saves the ranchers of Orange county several hundred thousand dollars. If the water comes through natural channels, if the Good Lord sends the rain, the money saved to the ranchers is available for other uses. It saves a big boost to retail hardware stores, and injects a spirit of joy into the hearts of those so much dependent on rainfall. The following dates represent the approximate middle of the storm periods for the 1936-'37 season, as visualized by Murray. In 1936, Oct. 5 and 10, Nov. 2, 16 and 29, Dec. 13 and 26, 1937—Jan. 9 to 23, Feb. 6 to 19, Apr. 2, 15 and 29, May 12. If by that time the rainfall hasn't been sufficient, you can buy water from the irrigation companies.
